Part One

27

A. The Equivocalness or Duplexity in the Whole Authorship,
Whether the Author Is an Esthetic or a Religious Author

29

B. The Explanation: That the Author Is and Was a Religious Author

33

Part Two

THE AUTHORSHIP VIEWED AS A WHOLE, AND FROM THE POINT OF VIEW THAT THE AUTHOR IS A RELIGIOUS AUTHOR

39

CHAPTER I

A. The Esthetic Writing

Why the beginning was made with esthetic writing, or what this writing, understood in the totality, signifies

41

1. "Christendom" is an enormous illusion

41

2. If one is truly to succeed in leading a person to a specific place, one must first and foremost take care to find him where he is and begin there

45

3. The illusion that religion and Christianity are something to which one turns only when one becomes older

47

4. Even though a person refuses to go along to the place to which one is endeavoring to lead him, there is still one thing that can be done for him: compel him to become aware

50

5. All the esthetic writing seen in the totality of the writing is a deception, but understood in a singular way

53
