

CONTENTS

PREFACE	xi
INTRODUCTION	1
1. Austrian Philosophy and the Brentano School	7
1. The Rise of Scientific Philosophy	7
2. Philosophy and Politics	9
3. The Neurath-Haller Thesis	14
4. The School of Franz Brentano	20
5. Brentano's Philosophy: A Preliminary Outline	29
2. Franz Brentano I: On Mind and its Objects	35
1. Intentionality	35
2. The Psychology of Aristotle	35
3. Psychology from an Empirical Standpoint	41
4. The Unity of the Soul	45
5. From Psychology to Ontology	51
3. Franz Brentano II: On Substance and Accident	61
1. Brentano's Metaphysics	61
2. Mutual and One-Sided Separability	63
3. Aristotle on Separability	65

4. Brentano on Separability	68
5. Mereological Potentialism vs. Mereological Actualism	76
6. Places and Times	79
4. Anton Marty: On Being and Truth	83
1. Brentano and Marty	83
2. Stumpf, Cantor, and the Doctrine of Immanence	86
3. Bases and Operations	91
4. Collectives and Relations	96
5. Space	101
6. States of Affairs	104
7. A Correspondence Theory of Intentionality	109
8. The Martian Theory of Truth	113
9. On Value-Contents, Fictions, and Linguistic Form	119
5. Alexius Meinong and Stephan Witasek: On Art and its Objects	125
1. Meinong and the Problem of Non-Veridical Intentionality	125
2. The Phantasy Modification	128
3. The Marks of Phantasy Phenomena	131
4. The Aesthetics of the Graz School	134
5. Aesthetic Pleasure	140
6. Art and Illusion	142
7. Gestalt and Expression	146
8. Empathy and Sympathy	148
9. Musical Presentations	150
6. Kasimir Twardowski: On Content and Object	155
1. Twardowski and Polish Philosophy	155
2. On the Absolute Theory of Truth	160
3. The Theory of the General Object	162
4. Sachverhalt vs. Judgment-Content: Immanence and Idealism	171
5. Process and Product	174
6. From Psychology to Logic	185

7. Tadeusz Kotarbiński: On Things and Their Phases	193
1. The Development of Reism	193
2. Reism and Truth	200
3. Kotarbińskian Psychology	205
4. The Aristotelian Concept of Thing	210
5. Time and Tense	217
6. In Defence of a Bicategorical Ontology	225
7. Kotarbiński and Brentano	229
8. The Varieties of Reism	239
8. Christian von Ehrenfels I: On the Theory of Gestalt	243
1. The Theory of Gestalt Qualities	243
2. Husserl, Meinong, Stumpf	250
3. The Graz Production Theory	257
4. The Berlin School	261
5. On the Parsing of Ontological Structure	269
6. Gestalt Psychology	278
9. Christian von Ehrenfels II: On Value and Desire	281
1. Foundations of a General Theory of Value	281
2. The Relation between Desire and Feeling	283
3. The Objects of Desire	285
4. On the Nature of Values	287
5. The Struggle for Existence among Values	292
10. Carl Menger: On Austrian Philosophy and Austrian Economics	299
1. The Intellectual Background of Austrian Economics	299
2. A Priori and Analytic Truths	305
3. Linguistics and Economics	311
4. Ludwig von Mises and the Synthetic A Priori	314
5. Two Kinds of Subjectivism	317
6. Austrian Aristotelianism	320
7. Aristotelianism in the Social Sciences	325
8. Fallibilistic Apriorism	329

REFERENCES

333

INDEX

363