Contents

Introduction vii

1. What I Do, and How Philosophy Has Helped Me
   Hernando de Soto 1

2. Social Ontology and Political Power
   John R. Searle 19

   Barry Smith 35

4. The Construction of Social Reality: Searle, de Soto, and Disney
   Jeremy Shearmur 53

5. How Philosophy and Science May Interact: A Case Study of Works by John Searle and Hernando de Soto
   Ingvar Johansson 79

6. Language and Institutions in Searle’s The Construction of Social Reality
   Josef Mounal 97
7. The Mystery of Human Capital as Engine of Growth, or Why the U.S. became the Economic Superpower in the Twentieth Century
   Isaac Ehrlich
   113

8. Allocation and Misallocation of Human Capital: Some Lessons from Japan and Russia
   Serguey Braguinsky
   159

9. On the Essential Nature of Human Capital
   Gloria Zúñiga y Postigo
   173

    Errol Meidinger
    193

11. The Institutionalization of Real Property Rights: The Case of Denmark
    Erik Stubkjær
    229

12. A Case for Simple Laws
    Andrew U. Frank
    261
    Postscript by Carlos Alejandro Cabrera Del Valle
    276

13. Sovereigns, Squatters, and Property Rights: From Guano Islands to the Moon
    David R. Koepsell
    281

    Jon D. Unruh
    291

15. Geographic Regions as Brute Facts, Social Facts, and Institutional Facts
    Daniel R. Montello
    305
Contents

16. Collective Intentionality, Documentation, and Real Estate
   Dan Fitzpatrick

   317

17. Real Institutions, and Really Legitimate Institutions
   Eric Palmer

   331

Contributors

347

Index

351