

Contents

List of Contributors	ix
References for Sellars's Works	xi
Introduction	I
1. Why Is Sellars's Essay Called "Empiricism and the Philosophy of Mind"?	9
John McDowell
2. Pragmatism, Inferentialism, and Modality in Sellars's Arguments against Empiricism	33
Robert B. Brandom
3. Perception, Imagination, and Demonstrative Reference: A Sellarsian Account	63
Paul Coates
4. Some Sellarsian Myths	101
Paul Snowdon
5. Brandom's Two-Ply Error	131
Willem A. deVries and Paul Coates
6. The Tortoise and the Serpent: Sellars on the Structure of Empirical Knowledge	147
Michael Williams
7. On the Structure of Sellars's Naturalism with a Normative Turn	187
James R. O'Shea
8. Getting Beyond Idealisms	211
Willem A. deVries

9. Functions Between Reasons and Causes: On Picturing Johanna Seibt	247
10. On Sellars's Two Images of the World Jay F. Rosenberg	283
Index	297