

Contents

1. The Unfinished Semantic Agenda of Naming and Necessity	3
2. Rigid Designation and Its Lessons for the Semantic Contents of Proper Names	18
3. The Meaning of Names	55
4. Ambiguity and Indexicality	96
5. Partially Descriptive Names	110
6. The Problem Posed by Propositional Attitude Ascriptions	131
7. The Case Against Linguistically Enhanced Propositions	147
8. Millian Meaning and Pseudo-Fregean Attitudes	204
9. What Is It for a General Term to Be a Rigid Designator?	241
0. What Do Natural Kind Predicates Have in Common with Proper Names?	264
1. Natural Kind Predicates, Mass Nouns, and Abstract Singular Terms	289
Notes	313
Index	373