

Table of Contents

Foreword to the English edition	9
Introduction	11
I. THE STRONG MODELS	13
1. Hegel's history of philosophy as a 'philosophical science'	15
2. Schelling's fragment of the history of modern philosophy (Munich Lectures)	83
3. Hegel versus Schelling – a historical-philosophical confrontation	97
4. Marx's doctoral dissertation and the history of philosophy	111
5. Nietzsche's polyphonic history of Greek philosophy	133
6. Husserl and the history of philosophy	157
7. Heidegger and philosophy of the history of philosophy	173
8. Heidegger versus Hegel or a struggle for the ancient philosophy	196
9. The main question of philosophy of the history of philosophy: What is Philosophy?	211
II. THE WEAK MODELS	225
1. Fink's cosmological philosophy and the history of philosophy	229
2. Patočka and the history of philosophy as preoccupation with the care for the soul	280

3. Gadamer and the history of philosophy as a mission	334
Conclusion	386
Bibliography	392
Index of Persons	402