

Contents

PART I: ALLIES AND INTERLOCUTORS

- |   |   |    |
|---|---|----|
| 1 | Iris Murdoch and Moral Philosophy                                   | 3  |
| 2 | Understanding the Other: A GadamerianView on Conceptual Schemes | 24 |
| 3 | Language Not Mysterious?  | 39 |
| 4 | Celan and the Recovery of Language                                  | 56 |

PART II: SOCIAL THEORY

- |   |  |     |
|---|--|-----|
| 5 | Nationalism and Modernity                              | 81  |
| 6 | Conditions of an Unforced Consensus onHuman Rights | 105 |
| 7 | Democratic Exclusion (and Its Remedies?)               | 124 |
| 8 | Religious Mobilizations                                | 146 |

PART III: THEMES FROM A Secular Age

- |    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 9  | A Catholic Modernity?                                     | 167 |
| 10 | Notes on the Sources of Violence:Perennial and Modern | 188 |
| 11 | The Future of the Religious Past                          | 214 |
| 12 | Disenchantment-Reenchantment                              | 287 |
| 13 | What Does Secularism Mean?                                | 303 |
| 14 | Die Blosse Vernunft ("Reason Alone")               | 326 |
| 15 | Perils of Moralism  | 347 |
| 16 | What Was the Axial Revolution?                            | 367 |
|    | Notes   | 381 |
|    | Credits   | 407 |
|    | Index   | 409 |