

CONTENTS

	Preface	7
1	Preliminaries	9
2	The grounds for emotivism	12
3	Emotive meaning	24
4	Stevenson's Ethics and Language	38
	Emotive meaning and attitudes	38
	The attitude of approval	48
5	Stevenson's Ethics and Language (continued)	62
	Stevenson's relativism	63
6	Stevenson's Ethics and Language (concluded)	72
	The second pattern of analysis	72
7	Validity	82
8	The vocabulary of evaluation	88
	The right and the good	92
9	Good of a kind and good from a point of view	98
10	A test for evaluative terms	117
11	Meaning and illocutionary force	130
12	Conclusion	147
	Select Bibliography	149
	Index	151