

Contents

	Foreword	vii
	Introduction: The Grounding of Knowledge in the Twentieth Century	1
1	What is Philosophy?	5
2	Dogmatic Knowledge and Critical Science of Foundations	19
3	Reflective Consciousness and Reiterative Regression to Conditions of Possibility	41
4	The Historical Development of Systems of Apprehension	61
5	The Critical Suspension of the Horizons of Conviction	81
6	Topical Consciousness and the Utopian Regression to Ultimate Experience of the Life-World	101
7	Phenomenological Method and Rigorous Science	123
8	What is Appearance in its Appearance?	143
9	Conclusion: Foundational Knowledge and Philosophy of Consciousness	161
	Notes	179