

Contents

Introduction	vii
1. Aristotle, from the Nicomachean Ethics	1
2. The Stoics, from various sources	5
3. Lucretius, from On the Nature of Things	17
4. Augustine, from On Free Choice of the Will	19
5. Aquinas, from the Summa Theologica	34
6. David Hume, from A Treatise of Human Nature	57
7. David Hume, from An Enquiry Concerning Human Understanding	68
8. Immanuel Kant, from the Critique of Pure Reason	86
9. Immanuel Kant, from the Critique of Practical Reason	101
10. A. J. Ayer, "Freedom and Necessity"	110
11. P. F. Strawson, "Freedom and Resentment"	119
12. Roderick Chisholm, "Human Freedom and the Self"	143
13. Harry Frankfurt, "Alternate Possibilities and Moral Responsibility"	156
14. Harry Frankfurt, "Freedom of the Will and the Concept of a Person"	167
15. Peter van Inwagen, "The Incompatibility of Free Will and Determinism"	184
16. Susan Wolf, "Asymmetrical Freedom"	199
17. John Martin Fischer, "Responsiveness and Moral Responsibility"	214
18. Derk Pereboom, "Determinism al Dente "	242
19. Randolph Clarke, from "Agent Causation and Event Causation in the Production of Free Action"	273
Selected Bibliography	301