

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE	v
INTRODUCTION	1
 PART I. THE STRUGGLES FOR A HISTORY
Chapter I. Polish Aesthetic Axiology in the twentieth Century (1890-1999) Tadeusz Szkolut	9
Chapter II. Elements Of Twentieth Century Polish Ethics Leszek Gawor and Lech Zdybel	37
 PART II. ON DISILLUSION AND CATASTROPHE
Chapter III. Stanisław Brzozowski—a Romantic Pragmatic Anna Zuk	65
Chapter IV. The Axiological Foundations of Polish Catastrophic Thinking in the Interwar Period Zdzisław J. Czarnecki	75
 PART III. VISIONS OF AN ABSOLUTE
Chapter V. On Absolute Truth: K. Twardowski and W. Tatarkiewicz Jozef Debowski	95
Chapter VI. Kazimierz Twardowski's Ethical Approach Anna Drabarek	121
Chapter VII. The Conception of Goodness as an Absolute and Objective Property in Władysław Tatarkiewicz's Ethics Anna Drabarek	153

PART IV. PATHS FOR A PILGRIM PEOPLE

Chapter VIII. The Axiological System of Henryk Elzenberg Leslaw Hostynski	179
Chapter IX. Crucial Problems of Roman Ingarden's Axiology Zofia Majewska	213
Chapter X. God and Goodness: The Evolution of Leszek Kolakowski's Ethical Views Cezary Mordka	239
Chapter XI. Astonished by Man: Karol Wojtyla's Theory of Values Jadwiga Mizinska	253
INDEX	269