

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	1. The Danger of Thought—2. The Traditions of Western Thought—3. Philosophic Truth.	ix
--------------	---	----

PART I . CAUSATION AND FREEDOM

CHAPTER ONE	Causation and Prediction	3
	1. Cause and Effect—2. The Rationale of Causation—3. Prediction—4. Necessity and Freedom.
TWO	Freedom and Process	20
	1. The Theory of Determinism—2. The Paradox of Determinism—3. Half-way Determinisms—4. Activity—5. Freedom and its Public Bonds.
THREE	The Nature of Beings	39
	1. The Inside and the Outside—2. Insistence—3. Resistance—4. The Inside—5. Concern—6. Summary.
FOUR	Action and Spontaneity	58
	1. The Motivation of Action—2. Self-adjustment—3. Expression—4. Compulsion—5. Freedom of Action—6. Spontaneity—7. From the Inanimate to the Animate—8. Summary.

PART II . THE PSYCHE AND THE SELF

FIVE	The Wisdom of Living Things	81
	1. Metaphysical Biology—2. The "Extrinsic" and "Intrinsic" Ought—3. The Limitation of Natural Wisdom—4. The Check on Folly—5. Grace—6. Evolution.
SIX	Consciousness	103
	1. The Expression of Sensitivity—2. Pain and Pleasure—3. The Cartesian Hypothesis

	—4. Environmental Sensitivity—5. Animal Perception and Intelligence—8. Transition to Man.
SEVEN	The Human Nature of Man 1. Man's Late Origin—2. Darwin's Thesis—3. The Necessity for the Body—4. The Rational Soul—5. The Human Constant—6. The Origin of Man.	121
EIGHT	Techniques and Habits 1. The Unity of the Embryo—2. The Organs—3. Reflexes, Instincts and Habits—4. The Organic Unity of Habits—5. Techniques.	145
NINE	Signs and Language 1. The Objects of Signs—2. Expectation and Anticipation—3. Salutations and Occurrences—4. Words, Calls and Cries—5. Exclamations—6. Names, Predicates and Metaphysicals—7. Conventional Discourse—8. The Nature of Language—9. Freedom and Language.	166
TEN	The Nature of Mind 1. Man's Fourfold Bond—2. Man's Threefold Freedom—3. The Origin of Mind—4. Levels of Mind—5. Inference—6. Mind and Freedom—7. The Mind-Body Problem.	194
ELEVEN	The Will 1. Emotion and Desire—2. The Nature of the Will—3. Criticism and Objections—4. Grades of Willed Objectives.	224
TWELVE	The Self 1. The Self and the Body—2. Expressions of the Self—3. The Freudian View—4. The Concern of the Self—5. Natural Rights—6. The Task of Man.	241