

Contents

Preface	page vii
Sources	x
1 Alternate possibilities and moral responsibility	1
2 Freedom of the will and the concept of a person	11
3 Coercion and moral responsibility	26
4 Three concepts of free action	47
5 Identification and externality	58
6 The problem of action	69
7 The importance of what we care about	80
8 What we are morally responsible for	95
9 Necessity and desire	104
10 On bullshit	117
11 Equality as a moral ideal	134
12 Identification and wholeheartedness	159
13 Rationality and the unthinkable	177