Contents

PART I: OUR LANGUAGE AND OURSELVES

Chapter 1. The Shape of the Problems

1. A Preliminary Map 3
2. Kinds of Question 7
3. Semantic Descriptions 10
4. Further Points about Words and Languages 18
5. Rules and Psychology 26

Notes 37

Chapter 2. How is Meaning Possible? (1)

1. Representation and the Dog-leg 39
2. Images 45
3. An Innate Representative Medium? 51
4. Radical Interpretation: Manifesting Meaning 57

Notes 67

Chapter 3. How is Meaning Possible? (2)

1. Describing: Three Ways of Being Odd 69
2. Bent Predicates: Wittgenstein and Goodman 74
3. Wooden Communities: Uses and Ways of Life 82
4. Privacy and Practice 92
5. Exercising Mental Concepts 103

Notes 107

Chapter 4. Conventions, Intentions, Thoughts

1. Grice’s Approach 110
2. Openness and Communication 114
3. Convention 118
4. Force 122
5. The Place of System: Homeric Struggles 127
6. Deferential Conventions 130
7. Thought Again 134

Notes 141
CONTENTS

PART II: LANGUAGE AND THE WORLD

Chapter 5. Realism and Variations
1. Oppositions to Realism 145
2. Rejection 148
3. Reduction 151
4. The Holistic Objection 158
5. The Status Problem 163
6. Expressive Theories: Contrasts with Truth 167
7. Metaphor and Truth 171
Notes 179

Chapter 6. Evaluations, Projections, and Quasi-Realism 181
1. More Detailed Motivations 181
2. Frege's Argument 189
3. Constructing Truth 197
4. Interlude: Bivalence, Fiction, Law 203
5. Other Anti-Realisms: Causes, Counterfactuals, Idealism 210
6. Mind-Dependence 217
Notes 220

Chapter 7. Correspondence, Coherence, and Pragmatism 224
1. Vacuity and the Quietist Regress 224
2. Transparency: Dummett and Frege 226
3. Redundancy: Ramsey and Wittgenstein 229
4. Facts and Judgement: Kant 233
5. Coherence: Russell, Bradley, and Peirce 235
6. What is Right about Correspondence? 243
7. Epistemology Regained 248
8. Truth Again 256
Notes 257

Chapter 8. Truth and Semantics 261
1. Truth theories: Tarski's Suggestion 261
2. Truth-in-L and Convention T 264
3. Top-Down and Bottom-Up 273
4. Radical Interpretation Again 277
Chapter 9. Reference

1. Reference versus Description
2. Putnam's Strategy: Spinning the Possible Worlds
3. Singular Thought Theories
4. Singular Thoughts and Method
5. Modes of Presentation and Substitutivity Problems
6. The Contingent A Priori and Negative Existentials
7. The Right Relation
8. Perspectival Thinking

Notes

Glossary

Bibliography

Index