PART 1: PRELIMINARY CONSIDERATIONS FOR THE LECTURE ON TRANSCENDENTAL LOGIC

1. INTRODUCTION .............................................................................................................................. 1
2. “THINKING” AS THE THEME OF LOGIC. SPEAKING, THINKING, WHAT IS THOUGHT ............... 8
3. THE IDEALITY OF LINGUISTIC PHENOMENA ............................................................................. 10
4. THINKING AS A SENSE CONSTITUTING LIVED-EXPERIENCE .................................................. 13
5. SENSE-CONSTITUTING LIVED-EXPERIENCES AS EGOIC ACTS .................................................. 16
6. FOREGROUND LIVED-EXPERIENCES AND BACKGROUND LIVED-EXPERIENCES .................. 19
7. THE INTERCONNECTION BETWEEN EXPRESSING AND SIGNIFYING AS THE UNITY OF AN EGOIC ACT ............................................................................................................................................. 22
8. THEME, INTEREST, INDICATION ................................................................................................... 25
9. THE REGRESSION FROM THEORETICAL LOGOS TO THE PRE-THEORETICAL SENSE-GIVING LIFE OF CONSCIOUSNESS .......................................................................................................................... 27
10. PERCEPTION AND PERCEPTUAL SENSE ......................................................................................... 34

PART 2: ANALYSES CONCERNING PASSIVE SYNTHESIS: TOWARD A TRANSCENDENTAL AESTHETIC

SELF-GIVING IN PERCEPTION ........................................................................................................... 39
§1. Original Consciousness and the Perspectival Adumbration of Spatial Objects ......................... 39
§2. The Relationship of Fullness and Emptiness in the Perceptual Process and the Acquisition of Knowledge ............................................................................................................................................. 44
§3. The Possibility of Our Acquired Knowledge Being Freely at Our Disposal ................................ 47
§4. The Relation of esse and percipi in Immanent and Transcendent Perception .............................. 53
ANALYSES CONCERNING PASSIVE AND ACTIVE SYNTHESIS

Division 1: Modalization

CHAPTER 1: THE MODE OF NEGATION

§5. Disappointment as an Occurrence that Runs Counter to the Synthesis of Fulfillment

§6. Partial Fulfillment—Conflict through Unexpected Sense Data—Restored Concordance

§7. Retroactive Crossing Out in the Retentional Sphere and the Transformation of the Previous Perceptual Sense

CHAPTER 2: THE MODE OF DOUBT

§8. Conflict between Two Superimposed Perceptual Apprehensions Having the Same Hyletic Stock

§9. Resolving Doubt through the Transition to a Ratifying Certainty or Negation

CHAPTER 3: THE MODE OF POSSIBILITY

§10. Open Possibilities as the Indeterminate Scope of Intentional Prefiguring

§11. Enticing Possibilities as the Tendencies to Believe within Doubt

§12. The Contrast between Open and Enticing Possibilities

§13. Modes of Certainty As Such in Their Relation to Enticing and Open Possibilities

CHAPTER 4: PASSIVE AND ACTIVE MODALIZATION

§14. Position-Taking of the Ego as the Active Response to the Modal Modifications of Passive Doxa

§15. Questioning as a Multi-Layered Striving toward Overcoming Modalization through a Judicative Decision

Division 2: Evidence

CHAPTER 1: THE STRUCTURE OF FULFILLMENT

§16. Fulfillment: Syntheses of Empty Presentation and Corresponding Intuition

§17. Description of the Possible Types of Intuition

§18. Description of the Possible Types of Empty Presentation

CHAPTER 2: PASSIVE AND ACTIVE INTENTIONS AND THE FORMS OF THEIR CONFIRMATION AND VERIFICATION

§19. Picturing, Clarifying, and Confirmation in the Syntheses of Bringing to Intuition

§20. Intention Toward Fulfillment is the Intention Toward Self-Giving

§21. Epistemic Striving and Striving after the Effective Realization of the Presented Object

§22. The Different Relationships of Intention and the Intended Self. Secondary Verification

CHAPTER 3: THE PROBLEM OF DEFINITIVENESS IN EXPERIENCE

§23. The Problematic Character of a Verification that is Possible for All Intentions and Its Consequence for Belief in Experience

§24. Development of the Problem of the In-itself for the Immanent Sphere

§25. Rememberings as the Source for an In-Itself of Objects
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Division 3: Association

CHAPTER 1. PRIMORDIAL PHENOMENA AND FORMS OF ORDER WITHIN PASSIVE SYNTHESIS .......... 162
§26. The Position and the Delimitation of Themes Concerning a Phenomenological
  Doctrine of Association ..................................................................................................... 162
§27. The Presuppositions of Associative Synthesis. The Syntheses of Original Time-
  Consciousness ................................................................................................................... 170
§28. Syntheses of Homogeneity in the Unity of a Streaming Present .............................. 174
§29. Primordial Forms of Order. Supplementing the Previous: The Phenomenon of Contrast ............................................................................................................................. 179
§30. Individuation in Succession and Coexistence .......................................................... 189
§31. Problems of a Phenomenology of Sense-Fields ....................................................... 193

CHAPTER 2: THE PHENOMENON OF AFFECTION ................................................................................ 196
§32. Affection as Effecting an Allure on the Ego. Contrast as its Fundamental Condition .......................................................................................................................... 196
§33. Laws of the Propagation of Affection ........................................................................ 198
§34. The Problem of the Relationship between Affection and the Formation of Unity ............ 207
§35. The Gradation of Affection in the Living Present and in the Retentional Process .......... 214

CHAPTER 3: THE ACCOMPLISHMENT OF AFFECTIVE AWAKENING AND REPRODUCTIVE ASSOCIATION .................................................................................................. 221
§36. The Function of Awakening in the Living Present ......................................................... 221
§37. Retroactive Awakening of the Empty Presentations in the Distant Sphere .................. 226
§38. The Transition of Awakened Empty Presentations in Rememberings ...................... 230
§39. The Difference Between Continuous and Discontinuous Awakening .............................. 233

CHAPTER 4: THE PHENOMENON OF EXPECTATION ........................................................................ 235
§40. Motivational Causality Peculiar to Expectations ........................................................ 235
§41 Strengthening and Inhibiting Expectational Belief. The Function of Expectation for the Formation of Configurations ............................................................................... 238

Division 4: The In-Itself of the Stream of Consciousness

CHAPTER 1: ILLUSION IN THE REALM OF REMEMBERING ................................................................. 243
§42. Overlapping, Fusion, and Conflict of Rememberings of Different Pasts ...................... 243
§43. The Possibilities of a Repressed Memory Breaking through to Intuition.
  The Disclosure of Illusion through the Transition to Higher Levels of Clarity ................. 249

CHAPTER 2: THE TRUE BEING OF THE SYSTEM OF THE IMMANENT PAST ................................................. 252
§44. Confirmation of Self-Givennesses by Expanding into the Outer Horizon, on the One hand, and by Approximating the Idea of Absolute Clarity, on the Other .......... 252
§45. The Primordial Transcendence of the Past of Consciousness and the Idea of its Complete Self-Giving ........................................................................................................ 255

CHAPTER 3: THE PROBLEM OF A TRUE BEING FOR THE FUTURE OF CONSCIOUSNESS ............................................. 263
§46. Disappointment as an Essential Moment of Expectation ........................................... 263
§47. The Constitution of the Objective World in Its Significance for the Determinate
  Prefiguring of Futural Consciousness ............................................................................. 264

TRANSITIONAL METHODOLOGICAL CONSIDERATIONS ................................................................. 269
§48. Consciousness as a Storied Structure of Constitutive Accomplishments.
The Disciplines of a Systematic Investigation

PART 3: ANALYSES CONCERNING ACTIVE SYNTHESIS: TOWARD A TRANSCENDENTAL, GENETIC LOGIC

INTRODUCTION. CIRCUMSCRIBING THE INVESTIGATIONS INTO THE ACTIVE EGO

§49. The Relation between Activity and Passivity

§51. Playful and Positional Consciousness

CHAPTER 1: ACTIVE OBJECTIVATION

§52. Cognitive Interest and Striving for Knowledge

§53. Explicative Acquisition of Knowledge

§54. The Active Synthesis of Identification. The Most Strict Sense of Objectivation

CHAPTER 2: THE FUNDAMENTAL STRUCTURES AND FUNDAMENTAL FORMS OF JUDGMENT

§55. The Possible Objectivation of Judgment and of its Components. Syntactic Matter, Syntactic Form, and Syntagma

§56. The Ideality of the Judicative Proposition in the Sense of Omni-Temporality

§57. The Forms of Judgment Issuing from Determinative and Total Identifications

CHAPTER 3: THE SYNTACTIC AND THE OBJECT-THEORETICAL DIRECTIONS OF EXAMINATION

§58. Sensible and Intellectual Objects. Substrate-Objects and Determination-Objects. Independent and Non-Independent Objects

§59. Whole and Part. Sets as Special Cases of Wholes

§60. Non-Independent Members of Judgment, Independent Judgments and Interconnections of Judgment

§61. Logical Sense

§62. The Distinction between State-of-affairs and Judicative Proposition

CHAPTER 4: THE GRADATION OF OBJECTIVATION

§63. Two Dimensions of the First Level of Objectivation: Mere Intuition and the Dimension of Explicative Examination

§64. The Second Level of Objectivation: Active Relating and Determining. The Task of a Universal Theory of Relation

§65. The Third Level of Objectivation. The Conceptualizing Judgment on the Basis of the Consciousness of the Universal

a. Relations of Comparison, Association of Similarity as its Foundation and Direction of Interest toward the Universal

b. The Universal as a Novel Intellectual Object

c. As-Such-Judgments

SUPPLEMENTARY TEXTS

SECTION 1. FIRST VERSION OF MAIN TEXT PART 2 (1920/21)

1. The Misunderstanding of Modalities of Being by Logicians and Epistemological Psychologists .............................................................. 357
2. Non-Prominence and the Prominence of Sense and Modes of Being for Consciousness ........................................................................... 361
3. The Modalization of Immanent Objects ......................................................... 363
4. "Types of Lived-Experience" are not Empirical Facts, but Formal Structures of Consciousness as Such .................................................. 365
5. Presentifications as Necessary Components of Perceptual Lived-Experience ......................................................... 367
6. Presentifications as Independent (Concrete) Lived-Experiences. Concrete Retention and its Modalization ............................................. 368
7. Empty, Concrete Expectation. Its Modalization ............................................ 371
8. Concrete, Empty Presentifications of What is (Temporally) Present. Its Modalization ..................................................... 372
9. Even the Presentifications of Something Present are Universal Occurrences of Consciousness .......................................................... 374
10. Fundamental Types of "Presentations" ......................................................... 375
11. Fulfilling and Merely Disclosive Intuitions ................................................. 379
12. Further Clarification of the Difference Between Fulfillment and Disclosure ................................................. 382
13. The Passive Processes of Experience .......................................................... 385
14. Transcendental Logic (Comprehensive Reiteration) ..................................... 387
15. Corroboration and Verification .................................................................. 391
16. The Question Concerning the Verifiability of Experiential Belief .............. 393
17. The Problem of the In-Itself of One’s Own Past. Evidence in Remembering .................................................. 400
18. Consciousness of the Memorial Illusion .................................................... 402
19. Remembering and Association .................................................................. 404
20. Kant’s Doctrine of the Synthesis of Productive Imagination ..................... 410
21. Development of the Problem of the In-Itself for the Immanent Sphere ........ 411
22. Rememberings as the Source for an In-Itself of Objects ................................ 414
23. Immediate and Mediate Awakening .......................................................... 417
25. The Lawful Regularity of Retention ........................................................... 422
26. Expectation and Association ...................................................................... 424

SECTION 2: APPENDICES

A. APPENDICES TO PART 2 ............................................................................. 425

Appendix 1: To §§6-8

   Descriptions of the Phenomenon of Conflict without Regard to Position-Taking .......................................................... 425

Appendix 2: To §§8-11

   Sense and Modality of Being in Perception and Remembering .......................................................... 431
Appendix 3: To §11
Evidence of Possibilities as Such and Modal Modification in infinitum ........................................ 436

Appendix 4: To §§14 and 15
Levels of Decision. Receptivity and Spontaneity ........................................................................ 439

Appendix 5: To §16
Intuitive Presentations and Empty Presentations .................................................................... 445

Appendix 6: To §16
Sense and Intuition .................................................................................................................. 447

Appendix 7: To §20
Belief and Intention ................................................................................................................ 449

Appendix 8: To §§24 and 25
The Apodicticity of Remembering ........................................................................................ 451
1. The Consequences of the Assuming that Remembering is Dubious ................................... 451
2. Two Types of Transcendental Reduction with Respect to Remembering ......................... 452
3. Evidences within the Flux of Perception and the Expression Belonging to It .................. 454
4. Remembering as Reproduction and its Relation to Retention ........................................... 458
5. Levels of Clarity of Remembering .................................................................................... 460
6. Deception and Apodicticity in Remembering .................................................................... 461
7. The Modes of the Past of Something Repeatedly Remembered ....................................... 463
8. Remembering and its Horizon of Expectation ..................................................................... 463
9. Remembering Distant Pasts .............................................................................................. 465
10. The Immortality of the Transcendental Ego—The Impossibility of the Transcendental Ego Being Born .............................................................. 466
11. Apodicticity of Remembering on the One Hand, Expectation on the Other .................... 471
12. Recapitulation ................................................................................................................... 472

Appendix 9: To §25
Both Variations of Modes of Givenness:
(1) of Proximity and Distance with Clarity
(2) of Obscurity as Veiledness. Nebulousness ........................................................................ 474

Appendix 10: To §25
Possession of the Self and Concealment in Remembering. Reproduction and Retention ...... 475

Appendix 11: To §26
The Concept of Associative Causality ...................................................................................... 477

Appendix 12: To §27
Note on the Fundamental Founding of the Doctrine of Original Time-consciousness .......... 479

Appendix 13: To §27
Primordial Present and Retentions ........................................................................................ 479

Appendix 14: To §27
The Accomplishment of the Association of Simultaneity ......................................................... 482

Appendix 15: To §27
Unitary Consciousness and its Correlate: the Identical Object ............................................... 486

Appendix 16: To §28
On the Connection of Similarity ............................................................................................. 491

Appendix 17: To §28
Sensible Connection of Similarity. Sensible Uniformity and Eidos ....................................... 495
TABLE OF CONTENTS

Appendix 18: To §28
Association and Synthesis ................................................................. 505

Appendix 19: To §§28, 29, 31-36
On the Phenomenology of Association .............................................. 512

Appendix 20: To §30
Time as the Form of Individuality and the Subjective Transformation ........ 519

Appendix 21: To §§33 and 34
Sensible, Multi-Radiating Affection. Sensible Group—Genuine Collective Objectlike Formation ................................................................. 520

Appendix 22: To §35
The Empty Horizon and the Knowledge of It........................................ 524

Appendix 23: To §35
On Questioning the Potentiality of the Empty Horizon ......................... 530

Appendix 24: To §37
Effect and Cause of Awakening ............................................................ 531

Appendix 25: To §40
Kinaestheses and Potential Expectations ............................................. 534

Appendix 26: To §45
Repetition and Essential Identity of Rememberings .............................. 536

Appendix 27: To §45
Two Fundamental Concepts of Evidence: Self-Givenness as Such and Pure Self-Giving ........... 538

Appendix 28: To §47
The Problems of the Definite Determinability of the World .................... 541

B. APPENDICES TO PART 3 .......................................................... 548

Appendix 29: To §52
Theme and Theoretical Interest .......................................................... 548

Appendix 30: To §54
Determining as Cognitive Act .............................................................. 549

Appendix 31: To §§55
Syntactic Formation ............................................................................... 551

Appendix 32: To §56
The Ideality of the Objects of Sense and the Ideality of the Species ................. 553

Appendix 33: To §57
Main and Subordinate Determination and the Division into Main and Subordinate Clause .... 554

Appendix 34: To §58
Absolute Substrates and Substrates as Determinations that have Become Independent ........ 556

Appendix 35: To §§59 and 65b)
Multiplicity and Judgments of Multiplicity ........................................... 559

Appendix 36: To §59
Set and Whole ...................................................................................... 562

Appendix 37: To §§63 and 64
Object and Content of Interest .............................................................. 566

Appendix 38: To §64
Categorial and Non-Categorial Connections and Relations .................... 573

Appendix 39: To §64
The Task of a Theory of Relation .......................................................... 575
