

Table of Contents

Preface	v
I. The Nature of Ethical Disagreement	1
II. The Emotive Meaning of Ethical Terms	10
III. Persuasive Definitions	32
IV. The Emotive Conception of Ethics and its Cognitive Implications	55
V. Relativism and Nonrelativism in the Theory of Value	71
VI. Reflections on John Dewey's Ethics	94
VII. Moore's Arguments against Certain Forms of Ethical Naturalism	117
VIII. Ethical Judgments and Avoidability	138
IX. Meaning: Descriptive and Emotive	153
X. Some Relations between Philosophy and the Study of Language	175
XI. Retrospective Comments	186
Bibliography	233
Index	237