

---

Contents

Preface vii

I Sellars, Kant, and Intentionality

- 1 Sellars on Perceptual Experience 3
- 2 The Logical Form of an Intuition 23
- 3 Intentionality as a Relation 44

II Kantian Themes in Hegel and Sellars

- 4 Hegel's Idealism as Radicalization of Kant 69
- 5 Self-Determining Subjectivity and External Constraint 90
- 6 Sensory Consciousness in Kant and Sellars 108
- 7 Conceptual Capacities in Perception 127

III Reading Hegel

- 8 The Apperceptive I and the Empirical Self:
Towards a Heterodox Reading of "Lordship and Bondage"
in Hegel's Phenomenology 147
- 9 Towards a Reading of Hegel on Action in the "Reason"
Chapter of the Phenomenology 166
- 10 On Pippin's Postscript 185

IV Sellarsian Themes

- 11 The Constitutive Ideal of Rationality:
Davidson and Sellars 207
  - 12 Why Is Sellars's Essay Called "Empiricism and the Philosophy of Mind"? 221
  - 13 Sellars's Thomism 239
  - 14 Avoiding the Myth of the Given 256
-
- Bibliography 275
  - Credits 281
  - Index 283