

CONTENTS

|  |      |
|--|------|
| INTRODUCTION                               | vii  |
| BIBLIOGRAPHY                               | xvii |
| 1. THE INFLUENCE OF AURICULAR CONFESSION   | I    |
| The Patristic Period                       | 2    |
| The Celtic Penitential Movement            | 5    |
| The Fourth Lateran Council                 | 17   |
| The Council of Trent                       | 22   |
| The Preoccupation with Sin                 | 27   |
| Concentration on the Individual            | 32   |
| The Obsession with Law                     | 35   |
| 2. THE LEGACY OF AUGUSTINE                 | 37   |
| The Development of Christian Thought       | 37   |
| The Influence of Augustine                 | 38   |
| Augustine's Moral Teaching                 | 42   |
| The Dark Strain in Augustine               | 44   |
| 'Deus impossibilia non iubet'              | 48   |
| Augustinism and Sexual Morality            | 58   |
| The Mind of Augustine                      | 68   |
| 3. NATURE AND SUPERNATURE                  | 72   |
| Nature, Reason, and Morality               | 72   |
| Aquinas and 'the Law of Nature'            | 77   |
| The Storm over the Supernatural: Jansenism | 83   |
| Good Pagans or Anonymous Christians?       | 96   |
| Reason and Revelation                      | 103  |
| The Scope of Revelation                    | 109  |
| 4. 'TEACHING WITH AUTHORITY'               | 116  |
| Magisterium in the Church           | 116  |
| The Meaning of 'Morals' at Trent           | 120  |
| When in Doubt: Probabilism                 | 135  |
| Papal Infallibility in Morals              | 143  |

|    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
|    | Expansion of the 'Ordinary Magisterium ' | 156 |
|    | Reflections on Authority                        | 164 |
| 5. | SUBJECTIVITY                                    | 175 |
|    | The Raw Material of Behaviour                   | 175 |
|    | The Will of God: Nominalism                     | 180 |
|    | Conscience and its Functions                    | 184 |
|    | Ignorance and Salvation                         | 193 |
|    | Subjectivity and 'Situation Ethics'             | 202 |
|    | False Religions or Ecumenism?                   | 210 |
|    | Road-Maps and Acorns                            | 218 |
| 6. | THE LANGUAGE OF LAW                             | 224 |
|    | Morality as Law: Voluntarism                    | 225 |
|    | The Theory of Purely Penal Law                  | 229 |
|    | Epicheia                                 | 231 |
|    | The Rational Basis of Law                       | 235 |
|    | What Sort of God?                               | 245 |
| 7. | THE IMPACT OF Humanae Vitae              | 259 |
|    | Events Preceding the Encyclical                 | 259 |
|    | Reactions to the Encyclical                     | 271 |
|    | Collegiality in the Church                      | 274 |
|    | Reasoning, Prophecy, and Intuition              | 280 |
|    | The Witness of Conscience                       | 289 |
|    | The Spirit and the Church                       | 294 |
|    | The Wider Impact                                | 299 |
| 8. | A PATTERN IN RENEWAL?                           | 302 |
|    | The Second Vatican Council: A Call for Renewal  | 303 |
|    | The Drive to Totality                           | 309 |
|    | A Recognition of Diversity                      | 321 |
|    | Moral Pluralism: Liberation Theology            | 330 |
|    | The Recovery of Mystery                         | 337 |
|    | The Morality of koinonia                 | 341 |
|    | INDEX   | 349 |