

Ondřej Beran

Living with Rules

Wittgensteinian Reflections on Normativity

PETER LANG
EDITION

Contents

Acknowledgements .....	7
1. Introduction: The World of Rules .....	9
2. Rules and the Particularity of Agents .....	15
2.1 The Sellarsian-Brandomian Framework.....	16
2.2 Some Criticisms and Alternatives.....	24
2.3 The “Thrownness” of Normativity.....	30
2.4 Normative Expectations Blending with “Biology” .....	39
2.5 A Messy Complexity: Gendered Languages and Rape Trials.....	45
2.6 Another Messy Complexity: Body-Bias and Embodied Skills.....	50
In conclusion.....	57
3. The Orientation Turn .....	59
3.1 Attitudes Recognising Souls .....	60
3.2 Miss Marple: the Art of Moral Detection .....	64
3.3 Situation is Included .....	77
3.4 Examples in the Wittgensteinian Ethics.....	81
3.5 Appreciating a Rule.....	87
In Conclusion.....	92
4. Rules and Persons in Morally-Loaded Situations .....	95
4.1 The Collision of Rules and Their Specification .....	96
4.2 Considerate Acts and Lives.....	108
4.3 The Rules of “Being Nice” and Their Point.....	115

4.4	The “Engineer Solutions” to the Trolley Problem.....	119
4.5	Treating a Dilemma .....	124
4.6	Rules Personalised and Involving Those Who Matter .....	128
4.7	The Personal Source of the Normative.....	134
	In Conclusion.....	139
5.	Excursus: Addiction, a Normative Disorder.....	143
5.1	The Many Theories of Addiction .....	144
5.2	The Equivocation of Addiction .....	154
5.3	The Equivocation of Weak Will and Akrasia .....	157
5.4	The Way of Life and Ways Out of It.....	162
5.5	Addiction and Flourishing.....	171
5.6	Addiction and Normativity .....	177
	In conclusion.....	182
6.	Beyond Perspective, Towards a Story.....	185
6.1	Individuals and “Human Types” .....	186
6.2	Problems with Perspective.....	190
6.3	Reasons and Stories .....	193
6.4	What Stories Talk about.....	196
6.5	Responding to Persons.....	200
6.6	Impersonality of Rules and Conveying What Matters.....	205
	In Conclusion.....	213
7.	Conclusion: The Difficult Blessing of Being a Normative Creature .....	215
	References.....	223