

E. J. Lowe

Locke

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK

Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	x
Chronology	xi

Life and Work One 1

Locke's Life and Times	2
Locke's Writings	8
The Contemporary Impact of Locke's Work	15
Summary	20
Further Reading	21

Knowledge and Experience Two 22

Locke's Rejection of Innate Ideas	23
Locke's Version of Empiricism	32
Locke's Theory of Sense Perception	35
Was Locke an Indirect Realist?	38
Locke's Distinction between Primary and Secondary Qualities	48
Locke's Account of Knowledge	52
Summary	57
Further Reading	58

Substance and Identity Three 59

Substance and Mode in Locke's Essay	60
Locke's Correspondence with Stillingfleet	64
Further Difficulties for Locke's Account of Substance	68
Martin's Interpretation of Lockean Substratum	72
Substance and Real Essence	78
Locke on the Ideas of Number and Unity	82
Locke on Identity and Personal Identity	87
Summary	97
Further Reading	98

Language and Meaning	Four	99
Ideationism and Locke's Account of Language		100
A Lockean Response to the Prejudices of Literacy		105
Locke and the Problem of Privacy		113
The Essential Role of Ideas in Thinking		119
A Response to Some Objections		123
Summary		126
Further Reading		127
Agency and Will	Five	128
Locke on Free Action and 'Freedom of the Will'		129
Locke on Causation, Volition and Voluntary Action		136
Locke and the Problem of 'Deviant Causal Chains'		141
Involuntariness and the Sufficiency Claim		147
Personhood, Personal Identity and Free Agency		154
Summary		158
Further Reading		159
Liberty and Toleration	Six	160
The State of Nature and the Nature of Man		162
Social Contract and Government by Consent		169
Locke's Theory of Property and Property Rights		179
Rights of Resistance and the Limits of Political Obligation		188
Religious Toleration		191
Summary		196
Further Reading		197
Legacy and Influence	Seven	198
	Glossary	204
	Bibliography	209
	Index	215