

Inquisitive Semantics

IVANO CIARDELLI, JEROEN GROENENDIJK, AND FLORIS ROELOFSEN

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

General preface	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Sources	xi
1. Introduction	1
1.1. Motivation	2
1.2. Main aims and outline of the book	11
2. Basic notions	13
2.1. The standard picture	13
2.2. Information states	15
2.3. Issues	17
2.4. Propositions	20
2.5. Contexts	30
2.6. Summary and pointers to possible refinements	38
2.7. Exercises	40
3. Basic operations on propositions	43
3.1. Algebraic operations	44
3.2. Projection operators	52
3.3. Linguistic relevance	56
3.4. Exercises	56
4. A first-order inquisitive semantics	59
4.1. Logical language and models	59
4.2. Semantics	61
4.3. Semantic categories and projection operators	63
4.4. Examples	65
4.5. Informative content, truth, and support	70
4.6. Syntactic properties of non-hybrid sentences	71
4.7. Sources of inquisitiveness	72
4.8. Comparison with alternative semantics	73
4.9. Exercises	74
5. Questions	77
5.1. Polar questions	77
5.2. Alternative questions	78

5.3. Open disjunctive questions	79
5.4. Wh-questions	80
5.5. Question coordination and conditionalization	85
5.6. Limitations and extensions	87
5.7. Exercises	91
6. Disjunction, clause typing, and intonation	93
6.1. List structures	96
6.2. Logical forms	99
6.3. Interpreting logical forms	100
6.4. Unmarked cases	105
6.5. Marked cases	108
6.6. Exercises	112
7. Conditionals	115
7.1. Evidence for truth-conditional effects	116
7.2. Conditionals in inquisitive semantics	120
7.3. Further benefits	130
7.4. Summary	140
7.5. Exercises	141
8. Propositional attitudes	143
8.1. Propositional attitudes: the standard account	144
8.2. Inquisitive epistemic logic	149
8.3. Beyond know and wonder	159
8.4. Pointers to further work	160
8.5. Exercises	161
9. Comparison to alternative approaches	163
9.1. Alternative semantics	164
9.2. Partition semantics	173
9.3. Inquisitive indifference semantics	180
9.4. Division of labor	184
9.5. Exercises	191
10. Conclusion	193
10.1. Overview of main concepts	193
10.2. Mission accomplished?	195
References	197
Further reading	211
Index	215