

MARCIN BUKAŁA

RISK AND MEDIEVAL NEGOTIUM

Studies of the Attitude towards Entrepreneurship:
from Peter the Chanter to Clarus Florentinus

Foreword by
PAOLO PRODI

FONDAZIONE
CENTRO ITALIANO DI STUDI
SULL'ALTO MEDIOEVO
SPOLETO
2014

CONTENTS

FOREWORD by PAOLO PRODI	pag.	IX
PREFACE	»	XVII

PART ONE

CRUCIAL NOTIONS AND REFERENCES

I Medieval attitude towards risk in economic activities	»	3
II References to canons: periculum	»	17
III References to canons: dubium	»	31
IV References to the Bible and theological perspective	»	43
V Analytical and ethical categories and understanding of medieval language ..	»	67

PART TWO

ANALYSES OF THE TEXTS

VI Peter the Chanter and his disciples: the rise of theologia practica referring to economic life	»	81
--	---	----

VII William of Auxerre: crucial notions of intentio and industria	pag.	105
VIII Raymond of Penyafort and the inter- pretation of papal decretals	»	119
IX Summa Halensis and ethics of mercan- tile enterprise	»	141
X Casus fratris Clari : diversity of exami- ned contracts	»	157
Appendix: The selected chapters of CASUS FRATRIS CLARI	»	183

PART THREE

THE COMPARATIVE OUTLOOK

XI Terms periculum and dubium in diffe- rent contexts: from Peter the Chanter to Clarus Florentinus	»	197
XII Risk and uncertainty, and the crucial medieval 'economic' ideas: conclu- sions	»	213
BIBLIOGRAPHY	»	227
INDEX OF CITATIONS FROM THE BIBLE	»	255
INDEX OF CITATIONS FROM DECRETUM AND DECRETALS	»	257
INDEX OF NAMES	»	259