

Contents

CHAPTER 1. Signs and the Act

1. The Scope of Semiotic	1
2. The Basic Terms of Semiotic	2
3. Dimensions of Signification	3
4. Interpretants	6
5. Summary of the Analysis	7
6. The Terms 'Meaning' and 'Express'	9
7. Formal Signs	11
8. Formative Discourse	13
9. The Uses of Signs	14

CHAPTER 2. Values, Signs, and the Act

1. The Concept of Value	16
2. Values and Preferential Behavior	17
3. Operative, Conceived, and Object Values	19
4. Three Aspects of Systems	20
5. The Primary Values and Signs	21
6. Individual and Social Forms of the Primary Values	23
7. Signs, Values, and Inquiry	26
8. Evaluative versus Nonevaluative Inquiry	28
9. Mead and Certain Features of Human Mentality	29

CHAPTER 3. Semiotic and Some Issues in Contemporary Philosophy
1. The Philosopher's Concern with Language	32
2. Axiology and "the Naturalistic Fallacy"	34
3. The Ought and the Is	36
4. The Cognitivist-Emotivist Controversy	38
5. The Absolutist-Relativist Controversy	41
6. Semiotic, Axiology, and Philosophy	43
7. Philosophy and Pragmatics	44
8. Concluding Words	47
CHAPTER 4. Semiotic, Axiology, and the Behavioral Sciences
1. The Problem	49
2. The Nature of the Interpretant	49
3. Dimensionality and the Semantic Differential	52
4. Osgood's Factors and the Kinds of Interpretants	54
5. Semiotic, Axiology, and the Social Sciences	56
6. A Note Concerning Contemporary Linguistics	60
7. A Note Concerning Information Theory	62
CHAPTER 5. Art, Signs, and Values
1. The Issues	65
2. One Approach to These Issues	66
3. The Aesthetic Sign as an Icon	68
4. The Aesthetic Sign and Values	69
5. Art as the Embodiment or Portrayal of Values	70
6. Supplementary Approaches	72
7. Experimental Possibilities	73
8. Experimental Studies	74
9. Some Further Considerations	77
10. Art and Human Behavior	79
CHAPTER 6. Signs, Values, and Personality Disturbances	81
Bibliography	88
Index	97