

CONTENTS

PREFACE	7
INTRODUCTION	13
WHAT IS PHENOMENOLOGY?	37
I The Phenomenology of Husserl	40
II The Phenomenology of Heidegger	53
1. From Phenomenology to Ontology	53
2. The Transcending or Abandonment of Phenomenology: Being and Language	59
III The Phenomenology of Sartre	67
1. From Phenomenology to Existentialism	67
2. The Transcending or Abandonment of Phenomenology: Freedom and Action	75
3. Humanism and Atheism	79
IV The Phenomenology of Merleau-Ponty	83
1. "Radical Reflexion" or the "Phenomenology of Phenomenology"	83
2. From "Perception" to Expression and to History	87
General Conclusion	90
THE QUESTION OF THE RADICAL POINT OF DEPARTURE IN DESCARTES AND HUSSERL	93
1. The Intention of Radicalism	97
2. The Process of Radicalization	99

3. The Radical Point of Departure	105
4. Radicalism and Transcendentalism	108
REFLEXION AND CONSCIOUSNESS OF SELF	113
GOING BEYOND METAPHYSICS	133
1. Metaphysics As Going-Beyond Towards the Beyond	136
2. Going Beyond Metaphysics	139
3. Meta-Metaphysics and Super-Transcendence	142
4. Metaphysics of Conversion and Transcendence Towards the Interior	146
5. Metaphysics in Reverse	147
6. Kant and the Metaphysics of Metaphysics	149
7. Heidegger and the Double Going-Beyond of Metaphysics	152
Conclusion	159
NOTES	165
BIBLIOGRAPHY	185