

Contents

Acknowledgements 11

Chapter 1 Introduction 13

1. The Questions 13

2. The Approach 15

Part One: Genes

Chapter 2 Questions about Some Uses of Genetic Engineering 23

1. Avoiding the Debate about Genes and the Environment 25

2. Methods of Changing the Genetic Composition of Future
Generations 26

3. The Positive-Negative Distinction 30

4. The View That Overall Improvement is Unlikely or Impossible 33

5. The Family and Our Descendants 35

6. Cloning 36

7. Crossing Species Boundaries 38

8. Risks and Mistakes 41

9. The Objections So Far 43

Chapter 3 Decisions 45

1. Not Playing God 45

2. The Genetic Supermarket 47

3. A Mixed System 50

4. Values 52

5. Changing Human Nature 55

Part Two: Thought Experiments

Chapter 4 Transparency 59

1. Monitoring Thoughts 61

2. Transparency in a Free Community 63

CONTENTS

3. Relationships 64
4. Identity and Individuality 68
5. The Two Perspectives 70

Chapter 5 Mood 71

1. The Objection to Social Quietism 72
2. Appropriateness 73
3. The Superdrug 76

Chapter 6 Control 79

1. Some Questions 81
2. Abuse by the Authorities 82
3. Benevolent Control by the Authorities 83
4. Voluntary Submission to Democratically Programmed Control 84
5. A Closed Society 86
6. Identity 87
7. Self-Modification 88
8. Conclusions 89

Chapter 7 Dreams (I) 91

1. The Experience Machine 92
2. Some Primitive Objections 93
3. Internal and External Perspectives 94
4. Other People 95
5. Activity 95
6. Identity Objections 96
7. The Kantian Objection 97
8. Will It Still Be Me? 99
9. Personal Characteristics 100

Chapter 8 Dreams (II) 102

1. The Dreamworld 102
2. Is the Dreamworld Real? 105
3. Deception, and What We Want 107
4. The Objection That the Dreamworld is Mind-Centred 108
5. The Mind-Dependence View 110
6. Claustrophobia 112

Chapter 9 Work 114

1. Cooperation and Expression 116
2. The Journey, Not the Arrival 117
3. Results and Replacement 118
4. Circles 121

- 5. Negative Circles 123
- 6. Systems 126
- 7. Transcending the Economic Problem 128

Chapter 10 Thoughts on the Thought Experiments 130

- 1. Self-Development and Self-Expression 133
- 2. Contact and Variety 133
- 3. The Development of Consciousness 134
- 4. Beyond Conservatism about Human Nature 136

Part Three: Values

Chapter 11 Generations 139

- 1. Stalin and Herzen 139
- 2. The Equality Principle 140
- 3. Some Views Incompatible with the Equality Principle 144
- 4. Practical Constraints on the Equality Principle 148
- 5. Against Utopias 149
- 6. In Defence of Intervention 150
- 7. A Possible Conflict 151

Chapter 12 Adjustment 153

- 1. Quality and the Satisfaction of Desires 154
- 2. Autonomy 157
- 3. Neutrality 161
- 4. The Human Zoo 162

Chapter 13 Perspectives 164

- 1. External Perspectives 164
- 2. Quality 166
- 3. Bias 169
- 4. Archimedes and Neurath 174

Chapter 14 Some Conclusions 178

- 1. Transcending Intellectual Limitations 179
- 2. Emotional and Imaginative Limitations 181
- 3. Values and Dangers 184
- 4. Consciousness 186

Index 189