

CONTENTS

Introduction	1
1 When does a life begin?	9
MICHAEL LOCKWOOD, Staff Tutor in Philosophy, Oxford University Department for External Studies
2 The doctor, the pill, and the fifteen-year-old girl: a case study in medical ethics and law	32
IAN KENNEDY, Professor of Medical Law and Ethics, King's College, University of London
3 Little human guinea-pigs?	76
R. M. HARE, Professor of Moral Philosophy, University of Florida
4 The ethics of compulsory removal	92
J. A. MUIR GRAY, Community Physician and Fellow of Green College, University of Oxford
5 Autonomy and consent	111
RAANAN GILLON, Editor, Journal of Medical Ethics and Director, Imperial College Health Service, University of London
6 Which slopes are slippery?	126
BERNARD WILLIAMS, Provost, King's College, University of Cambridge
7 The artificial family	138
MARY WARNOCK, Mistress, Girton College, Cambridge and Senior Research Fellow, St Hugh's College, University of Oxford
8 The Warnock Report: a philosophical appraisal	155
MICHAEL LOCKWOOD

9 On telling patients the truth	187
ROGER HIGGS, General Practitioner and Director of General Practice Studies, King's College School of Medicine and Dentistry, University of London
Appendix: legal and political developments	203
Notes	207
Further reading	234
Glossary	241
Index	251