

CONTENTS

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Preface                                   | ix  |
| 1 On Making Philosophy Intelligible              | i   |
| 2 What is Communication?                         | 19  |
| 3 Meaning and Intentionality                     | 35  |
| 4 What Must There Be?                            | 47  |
| 5 Metaphysics and Common Sense                   | 64  |
| 6 Philosophy and Science                         | 82  |
| 7 Chance   | 94  |
| 8 Knowledge, Belief and Evidence                 | 115 |
| 9 Has Austin Refuted the Sense-datum Theory?     | 126 |
| 10 Professor Malcolm on Dreams                   | 149 |
| 11 An Appraisal of Bertrand Russell's Philosophy | 168 |
| 12 G. E. Moore on Propositions and Facts         | 180 |
| 13 Reflections on Existentialism                 | 203 |
| 14 Man as a Subject for Science                  | 219 |
| 15 Philosophy and Politics                       | 240 |
| Index                                     | 261 |