1	Introduction	1
	Rationale for a Focus on Research Design Theoretical Research and Policy Research A Classification of Study Types	1 3 8
	The Presentation of Study Types Choices, Strategies and Practicalities	11 12
PAF	RT ONE: TYPES OF RESEARCH STUDY	15
2	Research Reviews, Meta-analysis and Seconda Analysis	ary 17
	Research Reviews	17
	Meta-analysis	19
	Secondary Analysis Practical Considerations	20 24
3	Qualitative Research	26
	Some Illustrative Examples Overlaps, Linkages and Combinations Practical Considerations	29 31 33
4	Research Analysis of Administrative Records	36
	Varieties of Records-based Studies The Nature and Quality of Data from Administrati	37 ive
	Records Record Linkage Documentary Analysis	40 43 44
	Overlaps, Linkages and Combinations Practical Considerations	45 45
5	Ad Hoc Sample Surveys	47
	Surveys of Individuals	50
	Survey Research on Roles and Relationships Survey Research on Organisations	54 55
	Overlaps, Linkages and Combinations	57
	Practical Considerations	58

viii RESEARCH DESIGN

6	Case Studies	61
	Individual Case Histories	65
	Community Studies	66 68
	Case Studies of Social Groups Case Studies of Organisations and Institutions	69
	Case Studies of Events, Roles and Relationships	72
	Overlaps, Linkages and Combinations	73
	Practical Considerations	73
7	Regular Surveys	76
	Gross and Net Change	77
	Types of Regular Survey	79
	Overlaps, Linkages and Combinations	83
	Practical Considerations	85
8	Longitudinal Studies	87
	Multi-purpose Studies: Panels and Cohorts	91
	Studies Focused on Specific Groups or Issues	96
	Inter-generational Studies	96
	Retrospective Studies	97 98
	Overlaps, Linkages and Combinations Practical Considerations	98
^	For a few of 16 and 10 and and	101
9	Experimental Social Research	101
	Experiments in Real-life Settings	105
	Natural Experiments	109
	Experiments in Artificial Settings	111 112
	Simulation and Modelling Overlaps, Linkages and Combinations	114
	Practical Considerations	115
