

CONTENTS

Preface to the English translation	page vii
Foreword	ix
Introduction by Oskar Kraus	xi

PART ONE: THE EARLIER VIEW

I. On the Concept of Truth (Lecture delivered to the Vienna Philosophical Society on 27 March, 1889)	3
II. Being in the Sense of the True (Fragment. Written not later than 1902)	26
III. Descartes' Classification of Mental Phenomena (1889)	28
IV. Windelband's Error with Respect to the Classification of Mental Phenomena (1889)	33
V. Critique of Sigwart's Theory of the Existential and the Negative Judgement (1889)	38
VI. On the Evident: Critique of Descartes and Sigwart. (1889)	52

PART TWO: TRANSITION TO THE LATER VIEW

I. Grammatical Abstracta as Linguistic Fictions. (From a letter to Antony Marty of March 1901)	63
II. The Equivocal Use of the Term "Existent" (September 1904)	65
III. Language (Fragment of 16 November, 1905)	71

PART THREE: THE LATER VIEW AS SET FORTH IN LETTERS

I. On the So-called "Immanent or Intentional Object" (Letter to Anton Marty, 17 March, 1905)	77
--	----

CONTENTS

II. Ens Rationis and Ens Irreale (Letters to Anton Marty, 1 March, 1906)	page 80
III. In Opposition to the So-called Contents of Judgement, Propositions, Objectives, States of Affairs	82
To Anton Marty, 2 September, 1906
To Oskar Kraus, 6 September, 1909
To Oskar Kraus, 24 September, 1909
To Oskar Kraus, 25 September, 1909
To Oskar Kraus, 11 October, 1909
To Oskar Kraus, 31 October, 1914
To Oskar Kraus, 8 November, 1914
To Oskar Kraus, 16 November, 1914
To Franz Hillebrand, 25 February, 1911
To Franz Hillebrand, 21 May, 1916

PART FOUR: THE LATER VIEW AS SET FORTH IN ESSAYS

I. On the Existence of Contents and the Doctrine of the Adaequatio Rei et Intellectus (20 November, 1914)	107
II. On the Meaning of "Veritas est Adaequatio Rei et Intellectus" (11 May, 1915)	115
III. On the Thesis: "Veritas est Adaequatio Rei et In- tellectus" (5 March, 1915)	120
IV. Reflections on the Theory of the Evident (8 July, 1915)	123
V. The Evident (9 July, 1915)	126
VI On the Evident (Fragment of 12 July, 1915)	130

APPENDICES

I. On the General Validity of Truth and the Basic Mistakes in a so-called "Phenomenology" (From Letters to E. Husserl, 1905)	135
II. On the Origin of the Erroneous Doctrine of Entia Irrealia (Notes taken by A. Kastil, May 1914)	141
Notes by Oskar Kraus	145
Index	187