

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
Preface	7
Introduction	11
I. What is a Word?	23
II. Sentences, Syntax, and Parts of Speech	30
III. Sentences Describing Experiences	48
IV. The Object-Language	62
V. Logical Words	78
VI. Proper Names	94
VII. Egocentric Particulars	108
VIII. Perception and Knowledge	116
IX. Epistemological Premisses	131
X. Basic Propositions	137
XI. Factual Premisses	150
XII. An Analysis of Problems Concerning Propositions	166
XIII. The Significance of Sentences: A. General. B. Psychological. C. Syntactical	170
XIV. Language as Expression	204
XV. What Sentences "Indicate"	214
XVI. Truth and Falsehood, Preliminary Discussion	226
XVII. Truth and Experience	236
XVIII. General Beliefs	247
XIX. Extensionality and Atomicity	259
XX. The Law of Excluded Middle	274
XXI. Truth and Verification	289
XXII. Significance and Verification	306
XXIII. Warranted Assertibility	318
XXIV. Analysis	327
XXV. Language and Metaphysics	341
Index	349