Contents

Introduction: posing the question
Geoff Bennington and Robert Young

HISTORY, MARXISM, AND THE INSTITUTION

Demanding history
Geoff Bennington

Speculations on reading Marx: after reading Derrida
Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak

Texts in history: the determinations of readings and their texts
Tony Bennett

Criticism and institutions: the American university
Jonathan Culler

DIFFERENCE AND HISTORY

History traces
Marian Hobson

Derrida and Foucault: writing the history of historicity
Ann Wordsworth

The practice of historical investigation
Mark Cousins

AESTHETICS AND HISTORY

Of aesthetic and historical determination
Rodolphe Gasché

The sign of history
Jean-François Lyotard
Contents

HISTORY AS TEXT

Language as history/history as language: Saussure and the romance of etymology
Derek Attridge

Fallen differences, phallogocentric discourses: losing Paradise Lost to history
Mary Nyquist

Ezra Pound: the erasure of history
Maud Ellmann

The phonograph in Africa: international phonocentrism from Stanley to Sarnoff
William Pietz

Notes on the contributors

Index