

Contents

Editor's Acknowledgement 9

Introduction 11

Part One

The Hegelian-Marxist Tradition 40

1 G. W. F. Hegel (1807)

Master and Slave 41

2 Karl Marx (1844)

The Critique of Hegelian Philosophy 51

3 Karl Marx (1867)

The Fetishism of Commodities 73

4 Georg Lukács (1923)

The Changing Function of Historical Materialism 90

Part Two

The Hermeneutic Tradition 102

5 Wilhelm Dilthey (1900)

The Rise of Hermeneutics 104

6 Hans-Georg Gadamer (1965)

The Historicity of Understanding 117

7 Alfred Lorenzer (1970)

Symbols and Stereotypes 134

8 Charles Taylor (1971)

Hermeneutics and Politics 153

9 Paul Ricoeur (1965)

Hermeneutics: Restoration of Meaning or Reduction of Illusion? 194

Part Three

Critical Theory: The Frankfurt School 204

10 Max Horkheimer (1937)

Traditional and Critical Theory 206

11 Friedrich Pollock (1955)

Empirical Research into Public Opinion 225

- 12 Theodor W. Adorno (1957)
Sociology and Empirical Research 237
- 13 Theodor W. Adorno (1951)
Cultural Criticism and Society 258
- 14 Walter Benjamin (1936)
The Storyteller and Artisan Cultures 277
- 15 Herbert Marcuse (1965)
Repressive Tolerance 301
- 16 Jürgen Habermas (1963)
Theory and Practice in a Scientific Civilization 330
- 17 Jürgen Habermas (1970)
Systematically Distorted Communication 348
- 18 Jürgen Habermas (1973)
Problems of Legitimation in Late Capitalism 363
- 19 Claus Offe (1972)
Political Authority and Class Structures 388

Part Four

Critical Theory: Commentaries and Criticisms 422

- 20 Franz L. Neumann (1953)
The Intelligentsia in Exile 423
- 21 Harald Pilot (1968)
Habermas' Philosophy of History 442
- 22 T. A. McCarthy (1973)
A Theory of Communicative Competence 470

Further Reading 498

Copyright Acknowledgements 510

Author Index 511

Subject Index 516