

Contents

Preface	ix
PART ONE: AUTONOMY AS AN EDUCATIONAL IDEAL
1 Autonomy as an Educational Ideal I R. F. DEARDEN, Reader in the Philosophy of Education, University of London	3
2 Autonomy as an Educational Ideal II ELIZABETH TELFER, Senior Lecturer in Moral Philosophy, University of Glasgow	19
3 Chairman's Remarks R. M. HARE, White's Professor of Moral Philosophy, University of Oxford	36
PART TWO: EDUCATION AND THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE UNDERSTANDING
4 Education and Human Being I R. K. ELLIOTT, Professor of Education, University of Birmingham	45
5 Education and Human Being II GLENN LANGFORD, Lecturer in Philosophy, University of Exeter	73
6 Chairman's Remarks PAUL H. HIRST, Professor of Education, University of Cambridge	85
Postscript R. K. ELLIOTT	99

PART THREE: QUALITY AND EQUALITY IN EDUCATION

- 7 Quality and Equality in Education 113
 DAVID E. COOPER, *Reader in Philosophy,
 University of Surrey*
- 8 Quality and Equality in Education: A Critique of
 David Cooper 130
 TIMOTHY O'HAGAN, *Lecturer in Philosophy,
 University of East Anglia*
- 9 Chairman's Remarks 144
 R. F. ATKINSON, *Professor of Philosophy,
 University of York*
- Postscript 153
 DAVID COOPER
- PART FOUR: THE NEUTRAL TEACHER
- 10 The Neutral Teacher 159
 MARY WARNOCK, *Talbot Research Fellow, Lady
 Margaret Hall, Oxford*
- 11 The Neutral Teacher? 172
 RICHARD NORMAN, *Lecturer in Philosophy,
 University of Kent at Canterbury*
- 12 Chairman's Remarks 188
 ALAN MONTEFIORE, Fellow and Tutor in Philosophy, Balliol College, Oxford
- PART FIVE: ACADEMIC FREEDOM
- 13 Academic Freedom 205
 STUART BROWN, *Senior Lecturer in Philosophy,
 The Open University*
- 14 Academic Freedom: A Reply to Dr Brown 221
 A. PHILLIPS GRIFFITHS, *Professor of Philosophy,
 University of Warwick*

Contents	vii
Rejoinder: Roles and Special Rights STUART BROWN	243
15 Chairman's Remarks R. S. PETERS, Professor of Philosophy of Education, University of London	250
Postscript A. PHILLIPS GRIFFITHS	257
Index	259