

Contents

Foreword: A spirituality for gentlemen	xi
Preface	xvii
One: Originality
1. Curiosity	1
2. Doubt	3
3. The good life	4
4. The self	6
Two: Genius
1. The nature of genius	9
2. Genius and melancholy	10
3. Essays and assays	13
4. Ecstasy interiorised	14
5. Montaigne's earlier writings	15
6. The hunt for wisdom	17
7. Wider doubt	20
Three: Montaigne's Melancholy
1. The earliest hints of melancholy	22
2. Fashionable melancholy and sanguine melancholy	23
3. True melancholia	25
4. Melancholy: genius or madness?	27
5. The ecstasy and madness of melancholics	28
6. Montaigne's sanguine melancholy	33
Four: From Genius to Madness: Torquato Tasso
1. Poetic madness, or a lunatic's chains?	37
2. Drunkenness and Platonic mania	39

Five: Privilege and Grace
1. Privileged ecstasy	42
2. Grace	46
Six: Everyman's Ecstasies
1. Sexual ecstasy	52
2. Sexual climaxes	54
3. Poetic ecstasy	59
Seven: Privacy
1. Melancholy retreat	64
2. Bravery and pedantry	67
3. A place of one's own	67
Eight: Love and War
1. Amorous zeal	71
2. Religious zeal	71
Nine: Person to Person
1. Change and decay	75
2. Platonic forms	77
3. How to know individuals	77
4. The forms of Aristotle	78
5. Real or nominal?	79
Ten: Assays and Resolutions
1. The footloose soul	81
2. No help from words	82
Eleven: Metaphysics
1. Experience	85
2. Words	87
3. The end of Man	89
Twelve: Contemplation
1. Satisfaction for the soul	92
2. Asceticism	93
Thirteen: The Church
1. Authority	95
2. The body and the Church	96

Contents

ix

3. Sebond's ecstasy: the risk of heresy	97
Fourteen: The Whole Form of Man
1. Physics or metaphysics?	100
2. Forma mentis	101
3. Honesty	103
4. The whole form of mankind	104
Fifteen: Fair Forms and Botched Forms
1. Aristotle and the glossators	107
2. Botched forms and individual forms	108
3. Angels and Cato	109
4. The soul at home.	111
5. Human brotherhood	111
6. The greater forms	112
Sixteen: The Body
1. Wondrously corporeal	114
2. Debts to Sebond	115
3. Platonists, Averroists, Realists, Nominalists ...	117
Seventeen: Wisdom
1. Socrates triumphant	120
2. Socrates criticised	122
3. Me	122
4. Nature and natural marriage	125
Eighteen: Wedded Bliss
1. Divorce reform	126
2. Archimedes' ecstasy	128
3. Eternity	130
4. Special privileges for Christian voluptuaries	132
5. People like us	134
6. Socratic ecstasy and Christian coenobites	136
7. The vita beata	138
8. Astonishment	141
9. The whole being of man	142
10. Poetry has the last word	145
Nineteen: Genius among Men
1. The higher forms again	148

Contents

2. Sallies and constancy	153
3. Inspiration, or unfair arguments?	154
4. Judging revelations	154
5. Imagination and ecstasies	156
6. Geniuses are men	160
Appendix A: Concordance of references	164
Appendix B: Two Latin versions of Aristotle	171
Select Bibliography	175
Index	187