

Contents

Preface	vii
1. The Structure of Business Ecology	3
Part One The Road to Today's Complex Interrelationships
2. Antecedents to Capitalism	17
3. The Theory of Classical Capitalism	35
4. The American Experience	46
Part Two Today's Business Setting: An Overview
5. The Changing Business Environment	69
6. The New Demands on Business and the Changing Business Role	85
7. Corporate Powers: Myth and Reality	106
Part Three Business and Changing Values
8. Changing Values in Society	121
9. Business Ideologies	137
10. The Social Responsibilities of Business	153
11. Making Social Responsibilities Operational in Business	185

xii Contents

12. The Social Audit	196
13. Business Ethics	210

Part Four Business and Major Community Problems

14. Business and Our Polluted Environment	231
15. Business and Consumers	253
16. Business, Community Problems, and Disadvantaged Minorities	281
17. Business and Education	307
18. Business and the Arts	315
19. Business and Technology	320
20. Affluence, Growth, and the Post-Industrial Society	338

Part Five Business and Government

21. Government-Business Interrelationships: An Overview	355
22. The Political Role of Business in Public Affairs	370
23. The Convergence of Business and Government Planning	393
24. Economic Concentration and Public Policy	415
25. Business and International Policy	444
26. Other Issues in Government Regulation of Business	464

Part Six Business and Its Employees

27. The Changing Role of People in Organizations	499
28. Labor Unions and Managerial Authority	523

Part Seven The Future

29. Future Forces and Patterns in the Business-Society Relationship	543
Bibliography	569
Index	599