
Contents

Chapter 1:	Introduction	3
	The Meaning of "Philosophy"	3
	Conceptual Analysis	4
	The Nature of the Philosophy of Mind	12
	The Importance of the Philosophy of Mind	15
Chapter 2:	Theories of the Mind	22
	The Political Theory	23
	The Physical Theory	31
	The Freudian Theory	38
	The Functional Theory	46
	Aristotle	46
	Twentieth Century Psychology	49
	Twentieth Century Philosophy	52
Chapter 3:	Attention	56
	Different Kinds of Attention-Concepts	56
	Attending	63
	Notice	66
	Consciousness	73
	Care	79
	Interest	82
Chapter 4:	Thought	87
	The Ambiguity of "Think"	88
	As Signifying an Activity	88

	As Signifying a Result	90
	As Signifying the Possession of an Opinion	94
	As Signifying the Possession of a Concept	95
	As Signifying What Is Meant	96
	The Polymorphous Character of Thought	97
Chapter 5:	Feeling	105
	Intellectual Feeling	105
	Perceptual Feeling	107
	Feeling as a Sensation	110
	Feeling as an Inclination	114
	Feelings of General Condition	116
	Completions	121
	Agitations	122
	Moods	123
	Emotions	123
Chapter 6:	Explanations of Human Behavior	131
	The Problem of Explanation	131
	The Language of Explanation	133
	Kinds of Explanations and Factors in Explanations	135
	Motive as a Kind of Explanation	136
	Factors in Motive-Explanations	139
	Different Explanations and Different Factors	142
	Factors of an Antecedent Causal Kind	143
	Explanations in Terms of Desires	146
	Law-Like Factors	150
	Teleological Explanations	161
	For Further Reading	167
	Index	173