

Contents

Introduction, Hugh Rank	xi
1. Watergate as Watershed
Watergate and the Language, Hugh Rank	2
Words from Watergate, Stefan Kanfer	12
Watergaters' Forked Tongues, Sydney J. Harris	15
Watergate Lingo: A Language of Non-Responsibility, Richard Gambino	17
A Watergate Quiz: Classical Rhetors for the Modern Student, Hugh Rank	30
A Watergate Summer, Don L. F. Nilsen	31
Language and Dramatic Character, Walker Gibson	36
2. In and Out of the Classroom
The Language of Deceit, David Burmester	40
The Electric Carrot: The Rhetoric of Advertisement and the Art of Persuasion, D. G. Kehl	52
Ad-Man, Business-Man, Teacher-Man, Bruce Reeves	65
Mendacious Messages from Madison Avenue (and a Recommended Remedy), Vincent P. Norris	71
Bias in the Mass Media: A Student-Consumer Approach to Analyzing News Products, Robert Cirino	77
Mad Magazine—Witness for the People, Richard Reeves	84
Plight of the American Language, Jean Stafford	91
How We Debase the English Language, Melvin Maddocks	100
Semantics, Attitudes, and the Training of Teachers, Howard F. Livingston	103
Let Them Eat Wonderbread, Peter Klappert	108
Symbols, Language, and Violence, Rollo May	119
The Road to Radicalism: A Semantic Aberration, E. W. Cardaci	126
Politics and the American Language, Justus George Lawler	131
America's Need to Know, Norman Cousins	138

3. A Call to Action . . . and Some Responses

The Rhetoric of Peace, Robert F. Drinan	144
General Semantics: Where Is It Now? S. I. Hayakawa	150
Learning from Watergate, Frank McCulloch and Morton Malkofsky	157
Watergate and Education: Three NEA Statements, Today's Education	160
Truth Is a Linguistic Question, Dwight Bolinger	161
Ethics in Public Discourse, Robert C. Jeffrey	176
Politics and the Study of Language, H. Thomas McCracken	184

4. The NCTE Committee on Public Doublespeak

Beginnings of the Committee, Walker Gibson	190
Committee Accomplishments and Prospects, Daniel Dieterich	195
Relevant Lesson, New York Times editorial	200
Zieglerrata, Israel Shenker	201
In the End Was the Euphemism, Fred M. Hechinger	205
Thistlebottomism, William Safire	209
Doublespeak Committee Uses Double-Talk, Kenneth J. Rabben	212
Conclusion: The Teacher-Heal-Thyself Myth, Hugh Rank	215
Public Doublespeak: A Personal Reading List, Hugh Rank	235