

Contents

Preface	xi
Introduction: The Birth of Law and the Rise of Jurisprudence	1
The Origins of Law and Jurisprudence	4
A Short History of Jurisprudence	9
A Preview of the Book	24
PART I. THE EPISTEMOLOGY OF LAW
1. Law as Logic, Rules, and Science	37
The Syllogism and Other Methods of Logic	38
Rules, Standards, and Discretion	42
Scientific Observation	61
2. Legal Reasoning as Practical Reasoning	71
What Is Practical Reason?	71
Authority	79
Reasoning by Analogy	86
A Note on Legal Education	98
3. Other Illustrations of Practical Reasoning in Law	101
Interpretation	101
Means-End Rationality	105
Tacit Knowing	108
Submitting to the Test of Time	112
4. Legitimacy in Adjudication	124
The Problem of Rational Prejudgment	124
Consensus	125
Policy versus Pedigree as Warrants for Judicial Action	130
How Are Judges' Visions Changed?	148
Critical Legal Studies	153

PART II. THE ONTOLOGY OF LAW

5. Ontology, the Mind, and Behaviorism 161
Ontological Skepticism 161
Mental and Other Metaphysical Entities in Law 167
Behaviorism and the Judicial Perspective 186
6. Are There Right Answers to Legal Questions? 197
Questions of Law 197
Questions of Fact 203
7. What Is Law, and Why Ask? 220
Is It a Body of Rules or Principles, an Activity, or Both? 220
Holmes, Nietzsche, and Pragmatism 239

PART III. INTERPRETATION REVISITED

8. Common Law versus Statute Law 247
9. Objectivity in Statutory Interpretation 262
The Plain-Meaning Fallacy 262
The Quest for Interpretive Theory 269
Indeterminate Statutory Cases 278
10. How to Decide Statutory and Constitutional Cases 286
Is Communication Ever Possible? 293
Beyond Interpretation 299
A Case Study of Politics and Pragmatism 302

PART IV. SUBSTANTIVE JUSTICE

11. Corrective, Retributive, Procedural, and Distributive Justice 313
Corrective Justice and the Rule of Law 313
A Note on Retributive Justice—and on Rights 330
Formal Justice 332
Distributive Justice 334
What Has Moral Philosophy to Offer Law? 348
12. The Economic Approach to Law 353
The Approach 353
Criticisms of the Positive Theory 362
Criticisms of the Normative Theory 374
Common Law Revisited 387

13. Literary, Feminist, and Communitarian Perspectives on Jurisprudence	393
Law and Literature	393
Natural Law and Feminist Jurisprudence	404
Communitarianism	414
PART V. JURISPRUDENCE WITHOUT FOUNDATIONS
14. Neotraditionalism	423
The Decline of Law as an Autonomous Discipline	424
The Neotraditionalist Response	433
15. A Pragmatist Manifesto	454
Index	471