

Contents

List of Figures	xi
Preface	xiii
1 Counterproject, Successor-System, Revolution	1
1.1 The Counterproject	3
1.2 Successor-System Theory	7
1.3 Historical Materialism	9
1.4 Criteria	11
1.5 Revolution	12
1.6 A Note on Gender	14
1.7 An Outline of the Argument	16
2 Justifying Capitalism	21
2.1 What Is "Capitalism"? What Is a "Capitalist"?	22
2.2 Neoclassical Shenanigans: Marginal Product as Contribution	24
2.3 Capitalism's White Knight: The Entrepreneur	31
2.4 Risk and Reward: Playing Reverse-Lotto	33
2.5 The Utility (and Disutility) of Deferred Consumption	39
2.6 TINA	43
3 Economic Democracy: What It Is	45
3.1 Economic Democracy: The Basic Model	45
3.1.1 Worker Self-Management	47
3.1.2 The Market	49
3.1.3 Social Control of Investment	50
3.2 The Viability of Economic Democracy	56

3.3	The Mondragon "Experiment"	65
3.4	A Note on the Public Sector	71
3.5	Fair Trade, Not Free Trade	76
3.6	Economic Democracy: The Expanded Model	80
3.6.1	Socialist Savings and Loan Associations	81
3.6.2	Capitalists under Socialism	82
4	Capitalism and Its Discontents	87
4.1	Inequality	88
4.2	Unemployment	93
4.3	Overwork	98
4.4	Poverty	100
4.5	Democracy (Lack Thereof)	104
4.5.1	A Note on Anticommunism	110
4.6	Environmental Degradation	113
4.6.1	Overpopulation	114
4.6.2	Food Scarcity	115
4.6.3	Pollution	116
4.6.4	Optimism, Pessimism, Growth, Development	117
4.6.5	Why Capitalism Can't Save Us	121
5	Economic Democracy: Why We Need It	127
5.1	Workplace Democracy: Some Behavioral Consequences of Structural Change	128
5.2	Inequality	131
5.3	Unemployment	135
5.3.1	A Note on Inflation	138
5.4	Overwork	140
5.5	Poverty	143
5.5.1	Poverty in Rich Countries	144
5.5.2	A Note on Racism	144
5.5.3	A Note on Immigration	147
5.5.4	Poverty in Poor Countries	148
5.6	Democracy	151
5.6.1	A Note on Liberty	152
5.6.2	A Note on Political Parties	153
5.6.3	Democracy and Imperialism	155
5.7	Ecology	156
6	Getting from Here to There	161
6.1	Economic Democracy as an Orienting Device	161
6.2	An Economic Democracy Reform Agenda	167
6.2.1	The Extension and Deepening of Workplace Democracy	168

6.2.2 More Social Control of Investment	168
6.2.3 Toward Fair Trade	170
6.3 From Reform to Revolution	170
6.3.1 Radical Quick	171
6.3.2 Once More, This Time with Feeling (for the Stockholders)	173
6.4 A New Communism?	177
Bibliography	181
Index	187
About the Author	193