

Outline of the report:

Memorandum re: Who Speaks for the University Today? iv

Part I The University in the Ears of its Publics

Abstract	1
I(a) The conflict of cultures	3
I(b) The return(s) of the philosopher	9
I(c) The subject at large : on Derrida's "position(s)"	23
I(d) The university in the ears of its publics	43
Summary & Transition	51

Part II. The Postmodern Condition Y2K

Abstract	55
II(a) Assessing Lyotard's Report on Knowledge 20 years after	56
II(b) The university in cyberspace	61
II(c) How philosophy originally solved the problem of legitimation	71
II(d) The rise of the performativity principle and the crisis of "de-legitimation" (nihilism)	87
Summary & Transition	97

Part III Lyotard's War

Abstract	103
III(a) The trouble with consensus (homologia)	104
III(b) The phrase — there is a language (logos)	111
III(c) Dueling meta-narratives	123
III(d) Who bears witness for the witness? On the "ethical turn" . . .	143
Summary and Transition	161

Part IV Conclusion

Anent: The question, "What is critical in critical knowledge today?	163
Summary (of the five theses)	181

Acknowledgements 189

Notes 191