

Contents

Acknowledgments xi

Part One. Terms of the Problem

1. The Turn Away from Neo-Kantian Political Theory 3

Part Two. Placing Conventions in Political Argument

2. Liberalism and Postmodernism 19

3. Political Theory as Connected Social Criticism 55

Part Three. Contemporary Political Theory and the History of Ideas

4. The Tradition of Political Theory as Political Instruction 91

5. The History of Ideas as Therapeutic Diagnosis 121

6. History as a Source of Republican Alternatives 166

Part Four. Anti-Kantian Foundations

7. Anti-Kantian Complaints Revisited 207

8. Critical Naturalism and Political Theory 231

9. Principled Criticism and the Democratic Political Ethos 265

Works Cited 299

Index 317