

CONTENTS

FOREWORD by Professor D. W. Brogan	page v
PREFACE	xiii
FIGURES	xxi
INTRODUCTION: THE ORIGIN OF PARTIES	xxiii

BOOK I

PARTY STRUCTURE

I. PARTY ORGANIZATION	4
(i) Direct and Indirect Structure , p. 5. Forms of indirect party, p. 6. Factors in indirect structure, p. 13.
(ii) The Basic Elements , p. 17. Caucus, p. 17. Branch, p. 23. Cell, p. 27. Militia, p. 36.
(iii) General Articulation , p. 40. Weak and strong articulation, p. 41. Vertical and horizontal links, p. 47. Centralization and decentralization, p. 52.
II. PARTY MEMBERSHIP	61
(i) The Concept of Membership , p. 62. Cadre parties and mass parties, p. 63. Criteria of membership, p. 71. Membership figures, p. 79.
(ii) Degrees of Participation , p. 90. Electors, p. 91. Supporters, p. 101. Militants, p. 109.
(iii) Nature of Participation , p. 116. Totalitarian and restricted parties, p. 116. Community, Association, Order, p. 124.
III. PARTY LEADERSHIP	133
(i) The Selection of Leaders , p. 135. Tendency to autocracy, p. 135. Titular leaders and real leaders, p. 146.
(ii) Oligarchy in Leadership , p. 151. Formation of the 'Inner Circle', p. 151. Composition and renewal of the 'Inner circle', p. 157.
(iii) The Authority of the Leaders , p. 168. The growth of power, p. 169. Personalization of power, p. 177.
(iv) Party Leaders and Parliamentary Representatives , p. 182. Domination of parliamentary representatives over the party, p. 183. Rivalry between parliamentary representatives and Leaders, p. 190. Domination of parliamentary representatives by the party, p. 197.

BOOK II

PARTY SYSTEMS

I. THE NUMBER OF PARTIES	page 206
(i) The Two-party System , p. 207. Types of two-party system, p. 208. The two-party system and the electoral regime, p. 216.
(ii) Multi-partism , p. 228. Formation of multi-partism, p. 229. Types of multi-party system, p. 234. Multi-partism and the second ballot system, p. 239. The multi-party system and Proportional Representation, p. 245.
(iii) The Single Party , p. 255. General characteristics of the single party, p. 257. Fascist and Communist single parties, p. 263. The single party and democracy, p. 275.
II. STRENGTH AND ALLIANCES	281
(i) Types of Party Strength , p. 283. Categories of strength, p. 283. Theory of minor parties, p. 290.
(ii) Development of Party Strength , p. 299. Types of development, p. 299. Normal evolution and sudden mutations, p. 312.
(iii) Party Alliances , p. 324. Factors in alliances, p. 325. Electoral, parliamentary and governmental alliances, p. 330. Political geography of alliances, p. 337. Relations between allies, p. 343.
III. PARTIES AND POLITICAL REGIMES	352
(i) Parties and the Choice of Rulers . p. 353. Parties and the nomination of candidates, p. 354. Parties and the election proper, p. 364.
(ii) Parties and the Representation of Opinion , p. 372. The two distortions of opinion, p. 372. Party systems and the distortion of opinion, p. 382.
(iii) Parties and the Structure of Government , p. 392. Parties and the separation of powers, p. 393. Parties and government authority, p. 403. Parties and the function of the opposition, p. 412.
CONCLUSION	422
BIBLIOGRAPHICAL NOTE	428
INDEX	433