

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Preface to the English edition	ix
Foreword: "The A Priori of Language in Apel's Transcendental Philosophy," by Pol Vandavelde	xii
1—Wittgenstein and the problem of hermeneutic understanding	1
2—Scientistics, hermeneutics and the critique of ideology: outline of a theory of science from a cognitive-anthropological standpoint	46
3—From Kant to Peirce: the semiotical transformation of transcendental logic	77
4—Scientism or transcendental hermeneutics? on the question of the subject of the interpretation of signs in the semiotics of pragmatism	93
5—The communication community as the transcendental presupposition for the social sciences	136
6—Noam Chomsky's theory of language and contemporary philosophy: a case study in the philosophy of science	180
7—The apriori of the communication community and the foundations of ethics: the problem of a rational foundation of ethics in the scientific age	225
Bibliography	301
Index of names	306