

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Abbreviations	ix
Introduction	xiii

Part I Heidegger and Practical Philosophy

1. Free Thinking John Sallis	3
2. The Interpretation of Aristotle's Notion of Aretê in Heidegger's First Courses Jacques Taminiaux	13
3. Freedom, Finitude, and the Practical Self: The Other Side of Heidegger's Appropriation of Kant Frank Schalow	29
4. Hier ist kein warum : Heidegger and Kant's Practical Philosophy Jacob Rogozinski	43

Part II Heidegger and Ethics

5. Heidegger's "Originary Ethics" Jean-Luc Nancy	65
6. The Call of Conscience: The Most Intimate Alterity Françoise Dastur	87
7. The "Play of Transcendence" and the Question of Ethics Jean Greisch	99
8. " Homo prudens " Miguel de Beistegui	117

Part III The Question of the Political

9. In the Middle of Heidegger's Three Concepts of the Political Theodore Kisiel	135
10. The Baby and the Bath Water: On Heidegger and Political Life Dennis J. Schmidt	159
11. Heidegger's Practical Politics: Of Time and the River Charles E. Scott	173
12. Heidegger and Arendt: The Birth of Political Action and Speech Peg Birmingham	191

Part IV Responsibility, Being-With, and Community

13. Heidegger and the Origins of Responsibility François Raffoul	205
14. Reading Heidegger Responsibly: Glimpses of Being in Dasein's Development David Wood	219
15. The Community of Those Who Are Going to Die Walter Brogan	237
16. Heidegger and the Question of Empathy Lawrence J. Hatab	249

Part V Heidegger and the Contemporary Ethos

17. Nihilism and Its Discontents Thomas Sheehan	275
18. Is There an Ethics for the "Atomic Age"? Pierre Jacerme	301
19. Praxis and Gelassenheit : The "Practice" of the Limit Andrew Mitchell	317
20. Psychoanalytic Praxis and the Truth of Pain William J. Richardson	339
Contributors	359
Index	363