

Contents

Preface	9
Introduction	13
Sources of the Indian tradition	20
A note on the pronunciation of Sanskrit	24
I. The Alleged Irrationality of Mysticism	25
1. Christian irrationalism	29
2. Buddhist irrationalism	40
3. Modern irrationalism	55
4. Appearance and reality	60
II. How Not to Study Mysticism	65
5. Dogmatic Approaches	68
A. Mysticism in Christianity and Islam	68
B. Zaehner on mysticism	73
C. Panikkar on Hinduism	75
6. Philological and Historical Approaches	78
A. Ruben and Lindquist on Yoga, shamanism and hypnosis	79
B. Massignon on Sufism and Conze on Buddhism	86
C. The structure of the Yogasūtra	90
7. Phenomenological Approaches	96
A. Phenomenology of mysticism	96
B. Sociology of mysticism	101
8. Physiological and Psychological Approaches	106
A. Brosse on Yoga and Wallace on transcendental meditation	106
B. Psychology in the Upaniṣads	113
C. Contemporary psychologists on Yoga	114
D. Deikman on the psychology of meditation	118
III. How to Study Mysticism	123
9. Effort, doubt and criticism	125

CONTENTS

10. Prerequisites and methods. The guru	136
11. Drugs and powers	148
12. Superstructures	159
13. Mysticism and religion	179
Appendix: Hallucinogens in the Rgveda , and other matters	187
Notes	194
Glossary	203
Bibliography	209
Index	219