

CONTENTS

IDEA OF THE WORK

|  |                    |   |
|--|--------------------|---|
| Frontispiece  | facing page | 3 |
| Explanation of the Picture Placed as Frontispiece to Serve as Introduction to the Work |                    | 3 |

BOOK ONE: ESTABLISHMENT OF PRINCIPLES

|  |                    |    |
|--|--------------------|----|
| Chronological Table  | facing page | 27 |
| Section I. Notes on the Chronological Table, in Which the Materials Are Set in Order |                    | 27 |
| Section II. Elements   |                    | 54 |
| Section III. Principles  |                    | 85 |
| Section IV. Method   |                    | 89 |

BOOK TWO: POETIC WISDOM

|  |  |     |
|--|--|-----|
| Prolegomena  |  | 97  |
| Introduction   |  | 97  |
| Chapter I. Wisdom in General   |  | 98  |
| Chapter II. Exposition and Division of Poetic Wisdom                                       |  | 100 |
| Chapter III. The Universal Flood and the Giants  |  | 100 |
| Section I. Poetic Metaphysics  |  | 104 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Metaphysics as the Origin of Poetry, Idolatry, Divination and Sacrifices |  | 104 |
| Chapter II. Corollaries concerning the Principal Aspects of This Science                   |  | 108 |
| Section II. Poetic Logic   |  | 114 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Logic  |  | 114 |
| Chapter II. Corollaries concerning Poetic Tropes, Monsters and Metamorphoses               |  | 116 |
| Chapter III. Corollaries concerning Speech by Poetic Characters among the First Nations    |  | 119 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Chapter IV. Corollaries concerning the Origins of Languages and Letters; and, Therein, the Origins of Hieroglyphics, Laws, Names, Family Arms, Medals and Money; and Hence of the First Language and Literature of the Natural Law of Nations | 124 |
| Chapter V. Corollaries concerning the Origins of Poetic Style, Episode, Inversion, Rhythm, Song and Verse   | 138 |
| Chapter VI. The Other Corollaries Announced at the Beginning [of Chapter IV]  | 143 |
| Chapter VII. Final Corollaries concerning the Logic of the Learned  | 149 |
| Section III. Poetic Morals  | 152 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Morals and the Origins of the Vulgar Virtues Taught by Religion through the Institution of Matrimony  | 152 |
| Section IV. Poetic Economy  | 160 |
| Chapter I. Of Poetic Economy, and Here of the Families Which at first Included Only Children [and not Famuli ]   | 160 |
| Chapter II. The Families with Their Famuli , Which Preceded the Cities, and without Which the Cities Could Not Have Been Born  | 175 |
| Chapter III. Corollaries concerning Contracts Sealed by Simple Consent  | 183 |
| Chapter IV. Mythological Canon  | 185 |
| Section V. Poetic Politics  | 187 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Politics, under Which the First Commonwealths in the World Were Born in a Most Severely Aristocratic Form   | 187 |
| Chapter II. All Commonwealths Are Born from Certain Eternal Principles of Fiefs   | 196 |
| Chapter III. The Origins of the Census and the Treasury   | 205 |
| Chapter IV. The Origins of the Roman Assemblies   | 207 |
| Chapter V. Corollary: Divine Providence Is the Ordainer of Commonwealths and at the Same Time of the Natural Law of Nations   | 209 |
| Chapter VI. Heroic Politics   | 212 |
| Chapter VII. Corollaries concerning Roman Antiquities, and in Particular the Supposedly Monarchic Kingship at Rome and the Supposedly Popular Liberty Ordained by Junius Brutus   | 222 |
| Chapter VIII. Corollary concerning the Heroism of the First Peoples   | 224 |
| Section VI  | 229 |
| Chapter I. Epitomes of Poetic History   | 229 |
| Section VII. Poetic Physics   | 232 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Physics   | 232 |
| Chapter II. Poetic Physics concerning Man, or Heroic Nature   | 234 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Chapter III. Corollary on Heroic Sentences   | 237 |
| Chapter IV. Corollary on Heroic Descriptions   | 238 |
| Chapter V. Corollary on Heroic Customs   | 239 |
| Section VIII   | 240 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Cosmography  | 240 |
| Section IX. Poetic Astronomy   | 246 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Astronomy  | 246 |
| Chapter II. Astronomical and Physico-philological Demonstration ofthe Uniformity of the Principles [of Astronomy] among All An-cient Gentile Nations         | 246 |
| Section X. Poetic Chronology   | 249 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Chronology   | 249 |
| Chapter II. Chronological Canon for Determining the Beginnings ofUniversal History, Which Must Precede the Monarchy of Ninus,with Which It [Commonly] Starts | 251 |
| Section XI. Poetic Geography   | 254 |
| Chapter I. Poetic Geography  | 254 |
| Chapter II. Corollary on the Coming of Aeneas into Italy   | 260 |
| Chapter III. The Denomination and Description of the Heroic Cities   | 262 |
| Conclusion   | 265 |

BOOK THREE: DISCOVERY OF THE TRUE HOMER

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Section I. Search for the True Homer  | 269 |
| Introduction  | 269 |
| Chapter I. The Esoteric Wisdom Attributed to Homer  | 269 |
| Chapter II. Homer's Fatherland  | 272 |
| Chapter III. The Age of Homer   | 273 |
| Chapter IV. Homer's Matchless Faculty for Heroic Poetry   | 276 |
| Chapter V. Philosophical Proofs for the Discovery of the True Homer   | 278 |
| Chapter VI. Philological Proofs for the Discovery of the True Homer   | 283 |
| Section II. Discovery of the True Homer   | 289 |
| Introduction  | 289 |
| Chapter I. The Improprieties and Improbabilities of the Homer Hith-erto Believed in Become Proper and Necessary in the HomerHerein Discovered | 289 |
| Chapter II. The Poems of Homer Revealed as Two Great TreasureStores of the Natural Law of the Nations of Greece                                   | 293 |
| Appendix. Rational History of the Dramatic and Lyric Poets  | 295 |

BOOK FOUR: THE COURSE OF NATIONS

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Introduction  | 301 |
| Section I. Three Kinds of Natures   | 302 |
| Section II. Three Kinds of Customs  | 303 |
| Section III. Three Kinds of Natural Law   | 304 |
| Section IV. Three Kinds of Governments  | 305 |
| Section V. Three Kinds of Languages   | 306 |
| Section VI. Three Kinds of Characters   | 307 |
| Section VII. Three Kinds of Jurisprudence   | 309 |
| Section VIII. Three Kinds of Authority  | 311 |
| Section IX. Three Kinds of Reason   | 313 |
| Chapter I. Divine Reason and Reason of State  | 313 |
| Chapter II. Corollary on the Political Wisdom of the Ancient Romans   | 314 |
| Chapter III. Corollary: Fundamental History of Roman Law  | 315 |
| Section X. Three Kinds of Judgments   | 317 |
| Chapter I. First Kind: Divine Judgments   | 317 |
| Chapter II. Corollary on Duels and Reprisals  | 319 |
| Chapter III. Second Kind: Ordinary Judgments  | 321 |
| Chapter IV. Third Kind: Human Judgments   | 324 |
| Section XI. Three Sects of Times  | 325 |
| Chapter I. Sects of Religious, Punctilious and Civil Times  | 325 |
| Section XII. Other Proofs Drawn from the Properties of the HeroicAristocracies  | 327 |
| Introduction  | 327 |
| Chapter I. The Safeguarding of the Frontiers  | 327 |
| Chapter II. The Safeguarding of the Orders  | 329 |
| Chapter III. The Safeguarding of the Laws   | 335 |
| Section XIII  | 338 |
| Chapter I. Other Proofs Taken from [Mixed Commonwealths, thatis from] the Tempering of the State of a Succeeding Common-wealth by the Government of the Preceding One | 338 |
| Chapter II. An Eternal Natural Royal Law by Which the NationsCome to Rest under Monarchies  | 340 |
| Chapter III. Refutation of the Principles of Political Theory as Rep-resented by the System of Jean Bodin   | 341 |
| Section XIV. Final Proofs to Confirm the Course of Nations  | 345 |
| Chapter I. Punishments, Wars, Order of Numbers  | 345 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Chapter II. Corollary: That the Ancient Roman Law Was a Serious Poem, and the Ancient Jurisprudence a Severe Kind of Poetry, within Which Are Found the First Outlines of Legal Metaphysics in the Rough; and How, among the Greeks, Philosophy Was Born of the Laws | 347 |
|--|-----|

BOOK FIVE: THE RECURRENCE OF HUMAN THINGS IN THE RESURGENCE OF THE NATIONS

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Introduction  | 357 |
| Chapter I. The Latest Barbaric History Illuminated by the Recurrence of the First Barbaric History                                      | 357 |
| Chapter II. Recurrence of the Nations in Conformity with the Eternal Nature of Fiefs, and Recurrence of Ancient Roman Law in Feudal Law | 360 |
| Chapter III. The Ancient and Modern World of Nations Described in Conformity with the Plan of the Principles of This [New] Science      | 370 |

CONCLUSION OF THE WORK

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| On an Eternal Natural Commonwealth, in Each Kind Best, Ordained by Divine Providence | 377 |
| Index of Names   | 385 |