

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
1 A Timeless Order and its Achievement: Structuralism and Genetic Structuralism	9
Durkheim's contribution	11
Saussure's approach to linguistics	15
Lévi-Strauss's anthropology	20
Bourdieu's genetic structuralism	29
Further reading and references	34
2 The Biological Metaphor: Functionalism and Neo-Functionalism	37
Early functionalism	38
Talcott Parsons	48
Robert Merton	54
Neo-functionalism and Niklas Luhmann	60
Further reading and references	64
3 The Enigma of Everyday Life: Symbolic Interactionism, the Dramaturgical Approach and Ethnomethodology	66
Symbolic interactionism	67
Erving Goffman's dramaturgical approach	75
Ethnomethodology	82
Further reading and references	89
4 The Skilful Accomplishment of Social Order: Giddens's Structuration Theory	92

Influences	94
Structuration theory	100
Evaluation	108
Further reading and references	111
5 The History of the Present: Foucault's Archaeology and Genealogy	114
A new conception of knowledge acquisition	116
Archaeology	118
Genealogy	122
Evaluation	128
Further reading and references	131
6 The Spread of Reason: Habermas's Critical Theory	134
Influences and early writings	137
The theory of communicative action	142
Evaluation	146
Further reading and references	150
7 The Invasion of Economic Man: Rational Choice Theory	153
Rational choice explanations	155
Game theory	157
Examples of rational choice applications	163
Problems with rational choice theory	165
Further reading and references	170
8 Eroding Foundations: Positivism, Falsificationism and Realism	173
Positivism	174
Falsificationism	182
Realism	189
Further reading and references	197
Conclusion	201
Notes	208
Index	220