

CONTENTS

ABBREVIATIONS	page viii
PREFACE	xi
ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	xxii
INTRODUCTION Singular or specific?	1
I Postcolonial theory	20
I Postcolonial singularity	22
II Postcolonial specifications	35
III The Marxist counter-attack	41
IV Towards a concept of the specific	48
V Edward Said, between territory and de-territorialisation	51
Excursus 1 A postcolonial world?	62
2 Edouard Glissant: from nation to Relation	66
I The critical consensus	70
II Original and outcome: Glissant's totalité	71
III National redundancy, dialectical dépassement	76
IV Against folklore, against Creole	79
V La Lézarde (1958): the promise of national consciousness	81
VI Malemort (1975): the dialectic en panne	87

VII	La Case du commandeur (1981): despair and transition	91
VIII	Mahagony (1987), Tout-monde (1993): beyond national consciousness	100
IX	Beyond specificity: Poétique de la Relation (1990) and after	118
	Excursus II On the nation and its alternatives	126
3	Charles Johnson and the transcendence of place	133
I	Critical contexts	137
II	Johnson and the Good Thing	143
III	Phenomenological implications	148
IV	Allmuseri immanence	151
V	Becoming-impersonal	155
VI	Writing on the plane of immanence	168
VII	The costs of singularisation	171
	Excursus III The universal and the transcendental	176
4	Mohammed Dib and the 'alam al-mithal: between the singular and the specific	188
I	Models of development	190
II	Territory deferred	194
III	Toward the limits of the specific	206
IV	Ta'wil, Ishraq and the 'alam al-mithâl	215
V	Towards extinction	223
VI	And then?	235
	Excursus IV Return to the specific	247
5	Severo Sarduy: sunyata and beyond	254
I	Territorial beginnings	265
II	Gestos (1963): toward paralysis of the 'sensory-motor schema'	266
III	Organisation by frame	270
IV	Sarduy's neo-baroque	274
V	De donde son los cantantes (1967): at the limits of lo cubano	276
VI	Empty foundations	281

VII The Buddhist path	284
VIII Cobra (1972)	290
IX Maitreya (1978)	295
X Sarduy's singular univocity	298
XI Colibri (1984) and the renewal of situation	306
XII Cocuyo (1990) and disorientation	312
XIII From death to dying	318
XIV Pájaros de la playa (1993)	322
CONCLUSION	329
NOTES	336
BIBLIOGRAPHY	394
INDEX	426