

Contents

Acknowledgements	vi
List of Contributors	vii
Introduction: Philosophy in a New Zealand Setting Graham Oddie and Roy W. Perrett	ix
The Colonization of Māori Philosophy Moana Jackson	1
A Māori Concept of Collective Responsibility John Patterson	11
Individualism, Justice, and the Māori View of the Self Roy W. Perrett	27
Sovereigns, Sovereignty, and the Treaty of Waitangi Stephen Davies and R.E. Ewin	41
The Treaty of Waitangi and Hobbes's Condition of Mere Nature R.E. Ewin	60
Is the Treaty of Waitangi a Social Contract? Jindra Tichý and Graham Oddie	73
Legal Reasoning and the Treaty of Waitangi: Orthodox and Radical Approaches Paul McHugh	91
The Treaty and the Universities John Bishop	109
Principled Pragmatism: Edmund Burke, the Americans, and Waitangi Keith Campbell	126
Historic Injustice: Its Remembrance and Supercession Jeremy Waldron	139
Liberty in the Republic Philip Pettit	171
Property Rights and Preservationist Duties Robert Goodin	192
On the Value Core of Deep-Green Theory Richard Sylvan	222
Index	230