

Contents

Preface	page ix
1 Noncomparative justifications	1
Marginal product as contribution	5
Capitalist contribution as entrepreneurial activity	13
Interest as time preference	20
Interest as reward for waiting	29
Profit as reward for risk	36
Capitalism as just because it is just	42
2 Terms of comparison	48
Capitalism: Laissez Faire	55
Socialism: Economic Democracy	60
3 Capitalism or socialism?: efficiency	78
The efficiency strengths of Laissez Faire	82
How efficient is Economic Democracy?	88
A comparison: X-efficiency	98
Trouble for Laissez Faire: unemployment	103
More trouble: the sales effort	112
4 Capitalism or socialism?: growth	126
Innovation, risk, and reward: the entrepreneurial spirit	127
What kind of growth?	136
How fast to grow?	148
Instability	161
5 Capitalism or socialism?: liberty, equality, democracy, autonomy	178
Liberty	184
Equality	193
Democracy	206
Meaningful work	224
6 Modern liberalism	242
Keynesian-liberal "Fair Capitalism"	249
Post-Keynesian "New Liberalism"	261

7	Transitions	281
	From advanced capitalism	282
	From command socialism	292
	From neocolonial underdevelopment	300
8	Other socialisms	315
	Command socialism	315
	Technocratic market socialism	319
	Marketless participatory socialism	329
9	Marxian reflections	335
	Communism	337
	Marxian paradoxes, Marxian hope	345
	Bibliography	357
	Index	377